Plastics scheme that bilked investors of millions halted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A preliminary injunction was issued Friday to halt an alleged plastics manufacturing scheme that bilked investors across the country out of millions of dollars.

Los Angeles Superior Court Commissioner Clinton Rodda issued the injunction against Automated Industries International (AII), which authorities said swindled investors in 18 states and the District of Columbia with a scheme to manufacture plastic goods at home and sell them back to the defendants.

Two men who headed AII, Jerry Coy of suburban Northridge and Richard Nuckolls of Glendale, were charged April 6 with 10 counts of grand theft. They were named in civil complaints filed by the district attorney's consumer and environmental protection division. A preliminary hearing was set for May 19.

The civil suit, charging Coy and Nuckolls with violating the state Business and Professions Code, also named two people who allegedly told potential investors that Coy and Nuckolls had good references.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Gilbert Garcetti said the defendants used newspaper advertisements to solicit potential investors.

California residents were told they needed $3,900 for training, equipment and franchises to manufacture and sell plastic products such as decorative wall plaques, picture frames and clocks. Out-of-state investors were charged $7,900.

Garcetti said the investors were told they could sell their products back to Coy and Nuckolls. The defendants were to sell the products to retail stores, but instead stored them in a warehouse.

He said some investors received no equipment at all and others received only partial shipments.

Widow with 4 children says she'll marry Elvis

ATHENS, Ala. (AP) — Iladean Tribble, a widow, said Friday night that she will marry entertainer Elvis Presley in a private ceremony today. But there was no confirmation from Presley and a spokesman denied it.

"I am going to marry him," Mrs. Tribble, a secretary, told The Associated Press in a telephone interview. "I thought that the publication and everything was being left up to him because of the position he's in."

Presley, 41, could not be reached for comment. However, his physician, Dr. George Nichopoulous of Memphis, Tenn., said the report was not true. Nichopoulous has regularly served as a spokesman for the entertainer.

Earlier, Mrs. Tribble's mother, Mrs. Homer McLemore, was quoted in a copyrighted story in the Decatur, Ala., Daily as saying the marriage would take place.

The 42-year-old widow is the mother of four children. She said her children, "are thrilled beyond words. They are like me, they've loved him for a long time."

She said all of Presley's songs, "have a special meaning to me.

"He and I started with a miracle from God," said Mrs. Tribble, who reportedly met Presley several years ago in a Memphis hospital. "And it's something sacred and beautiful to both of us."

Earlier this month, a weekly newspaper here published a wedding announcement under a one-column picture of Mrs. Tribble.

Ford starts 'stockpiling' oil barrels

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has taken a first step toward a buildup of one billion barrels of oil as a strategic reserve against another foreign embargo. The oil would be poured into large salt dome cavities along the Gulf Coast.

The administration Tuesday transmitted to the House Commerce subcommittee on energy and power a presidential decision to request authority to commit an initial $871 million for oil, storage facilities and studies by Sept. 30, 1977.

About $300 million would be for facilities and about $550 million for the first 50 million barrels of oil.

The program is intended to make certain this country is not faced with a shortage of oil if there is another embargo like that imposed by Arab states for five months in 1973-74 in retaliation for American shipments of arms to Israel during the October 1973 war.

U.S. oil imports are expected to average at a record high of more than six million barrels a day in 1976 and about seven million barrels a day in 1977.

Planning for the oil storage program has been under way at the Federal Energy Administration for almost a year, but several important issues, including how much of the reserve should be paid for directly by oil companies, remain unresolved.

Both Senate and House staff aides expressed satisfaction on Friday with the presidential figure submitted Tuesday.

Davies said the Gulf Coast is pocked with salt domes, many of which already had been worked and are empty.

Gunman surrenders after shooting spree

BALTIMORE (AP) — A sniper firing a high-powered rifle from the upper floor of a rowhouse killed one city policeman and wounded four other officers and a civilian Friday, authorities said.

A man who police said was the gunman surrendered and was brought from the house an hour later. Police identified him as James E. Williams, 19, and said he was uninjured.

Police said the incident may have stemmed from a domestic argument but emphasized they did not know what caused the shooting spree.

The dead policeman was identified as Jimmy Halcomb, 32, whose widow is eight months pregnant. He was shot in the neck.

The wounded officers were listed as James Brannen, in stable condition with gunshot wounds of the chest and side; Arthur Kennel, in good condition with facial wounds, and Calvin Menkin and Neal Splain, released after treatment for facial wounds.

The civilian was identified only as George Weaver. Police said he was in good condition with a gunshot wound of the hand.

Authorities said they learned of the gunman when two officers on routine car patrol about 7 p.m. heard noises they thought were gunshots or firecrackers.

They were driving toward the noise when a bullet smashed through the windshield. As they scrambled from the car, more shots were fired and they called for help.

Police reinforcements poured in. They were met by shots from the second and third floors of the house and returned the fire.

Police said the gunman seemed to move between the floors.

Man killed by train in Upland

A man was fatally injured in Upland about 3:30 p.m. Friday when the pickup truck he was driving was struck by an eastbound Santa Fe train.

Upland police said identification of the victim could not be released until next of kin had been notified.

The man was northbound on Benson Avenue at about 15 miles per hour and the railroad crossing signal was in operation, police said. However, he did not stop, and the train was unable to stop.

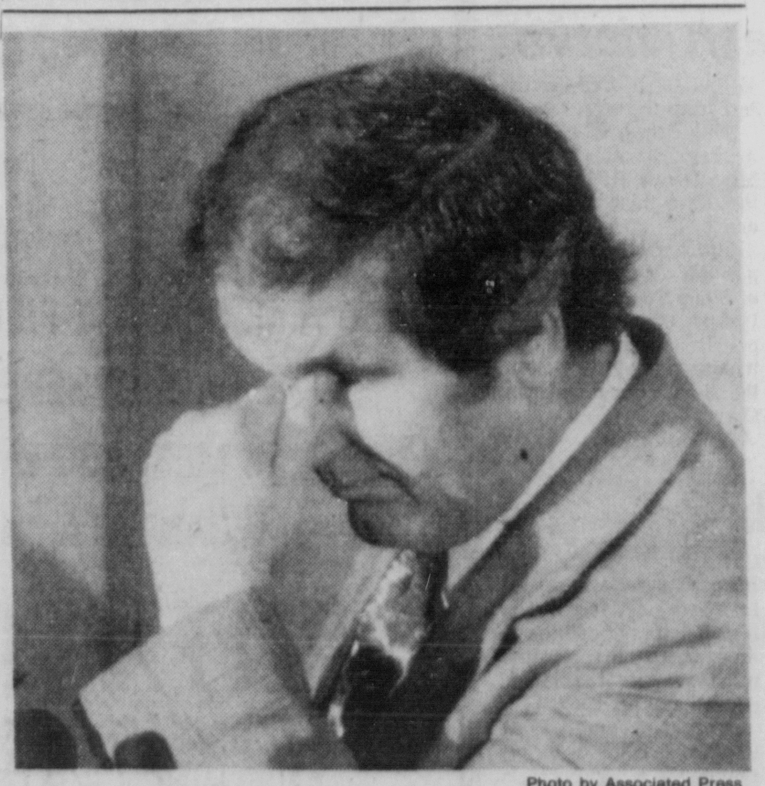

The victim was taken by ambulance to Doctors' Hospital Montclair where he died at 4:45 p.m., police said.

New rains keep river on the rise

City works, waits as flood nears

MINOT, N.D. (AP) — The Souris River, held back by earthen dikes, kept rising Friday as new rains prolonged the agony of this flood-prone city of 32,000. The rain meant the river, originally expected to crest today, could keep rising until Monday.

Officials feared the new rains could erode the dikes, weakening them before the river recedes and making it more difficult to work on them. But they expressed confidence in the over-all defenses.

Minot is struggling to contain its fifth flood in seven years. About 12,000 residents have been evacuated from low-lying areas.

On Friday afternoon alone, the National Weather Service reported about one-half inch of rain, and it said up to 2 inches were possible in the river's basin from the storm. At that rate, it said, the river would crest Monday 8 feet above flood stage.

That would be 1½ feet above the previous prediction of 6½ feet, and 2 feet below the top of the dikes.

Another crucial prediction — for a peak water flow of 10,000 cubic feet per second — remained the same, however. Officials say that after the river crests, it could be weeks before it recedes. The rate of flow while the river basin empties will determine how much pressure the dikes must withstand.

One casualty of the flood was reported Friday when a car with four persons left a road and went into the river overflow about 60 miles north of here. One person was missing. The other three escaped.

Mass immunization starts with flu shots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hundreds of federal employes will receive the first experimental shots of new swine flu vaccine next week as the first step toward mass immunization of the U.S. population, the Food and Drug Administration announced Friday.

Four drug companies have delivered 24,000 vials of vaccine in three different dosage strengths to the FDA, to determine which strength provides the best protection against the flu virus with minimal side effects.

The first clinical test subjects will be healthy adult volunteers from the FDA and National Institutes of Health. The study will be double-blind, meaning that about half the volunteers will receive placebo or dummy shots without the vaccine.

Kissinger's not worried

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger smilingly dismissed on Friday a report that John Connally would be named to replace him, saying there appears to be "a bitter competition going on for a place that may not be vacant."

Kissinger was responding to a newspaper story that President Ford plans to name Connally, a former Texas governor, to replace Kissinger if Ford is elected in November.

Report claims

Hearst links former companion to holdup

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst has implicated a former underground companion for whom she reportedly had a warm regard in a fatal bank robbery near Sacramento last year, it was reported Friday.

Quoting unidentified sources, the San Francisco Examiner said Miss Hearst told investigators that Berkeley artist Wendy Yoshimura drove a second getaway car when the robbers who held up the Crocker National Bank in Carmichael on April 21, 1975, switched from an initial vehicle to the one driven by Miss Yoshimura.

Two radio and one television station here and in Sacramento carried similar reports. The FBI refused to comment.

Steven Soliah, who shared an apartment with Miss Hearst and Miss Yoshimura, is the only person charged in the holdup. He is now on trial in Sacramento.

Witnesses have said that four bandits escaped from the bank with $15,000 and killed a woman customer with a shotgun blast.

Miss Yoshimura, 33, a Japanese-American artist who currently is awaiting trial on charges of possession of weapons and explosives, is free on $25,000 bail.

Miss Hearst named more than a dozen underground companions during her federal bank robbery trial in San Francisco, but she specifically said Miss Yoshimura was not a member of the Symbionese Liberation Army, the terrorist group that kidnaped Miss Hearst on Feb. 4, 1974.

He's 'crucified' for 7th time

MANILA, The Philippines (AP) — It was Good Friday and 34-year-old Juan Piring was nailed to a cross — for the seventh consecutive year — as part of an annual village ceremony.

Piring's brother-in-law, Medino Pomposa, 48, drove the nails into his palms.

Piring spent about 10 seconds on the cross and the pain in his spiked palms drove him to tears and whimpers.

"Three more times and I'll retire," he told newsmen later in the field where the event took place. His palms are nearly unmarked despite the seven crucifixions.

Piring, father of seven children, a farmer and a former security guard, said his annual crucifixions are part of a vow he made when his mother recovered from an illness.

Many tourists came to Barrio San Pedro, 40 miles north of Manila, to watch Piring on the cross. Vendors sold ice cream and balloons and beer in the 95-degree heat.

The crucifixion climaxed a drama of the Way of the Cross. About 300 flagellants started the ritual, whipping themselves on their backs until they drew blood. Piring, costumed in a wig and false beard and dragging a cross, led a procession of residents dressed as Roman soldiers.

Piring is the most widely known of the many flagellants and cross draggers who turn out each Easter season in the Philippines, the most fervently Christian land in Asia.

Labor leaders reject 'last step' terms in S.F.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Labor leaders, branding at least one requirement "surrender," rejected conditions Friday that the city said must be met before mediation can resume to end the illegal strike of municipal employes.

The city issued two alternate demands which were termed "the last step" by Quentin Kopp, Board of Supervisors president.

The offers were:

—That all municipal railway service, including electric and diesel-powered vehicles, and support services be resumed by 12:01 a.m. PST Monday, and that all requests for emergency service to other departments be honored or;

—That all diesel transit vehicles and support services be returned to service, emergency requests be honored and that pickets be removed from almost all city facilities by the same time limit.

"It's not an ultimatum, but if the ground rules can't be agreed on...as far as the board is concerned our offer of mediation is withdrawn," Kopp said.

Referring to the requirement that pickets be withdrawn before mediation begins, labor attorney Victor Van Bourg told newsmen later "that is not in the cards. The picketing is what's hurting.

"Their condition to mediate is surrender, which we cannot accept," Van Bourg said.

He countered the city requirements with labor offers. He said negotiators were willing to meet round the clock if no conditions are attached.

The attorney added that any conditions for negotiation are inappropriate.

However, Van Bourg did say the pickets could be withdrawn "if there is a satisfactory negotiating arrangement by 12:01 a.m. Monday."

India plans sterilization laws to curb birth rate

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The Indian government announced a new plan Friday that would attempt to halt the nation's rampaging population explosion by banning early marriage and allowing states to go ahead with the world's first compulsory sterilization laws.

The plan's key provision would raise the minimum marriage age from 15 to 18 for women and from 18 to 21 for men.

The new plan also provides increased financial incentives for those being sterilized voluntarily, penalizes states with poor family planning performance and ends increased representation in parliament for growing population centers.

"We are grappling with one of the most serious problems any nation has ever had to deal with and we are trying to do so in a humane, mature and enlightened manner," said Dr. Karan Singh, India's minister of health and family planning.

Singh told correspondents the new plan was "a practical approach" to keeping India's population of 600 million from growing to one billion by 1990 without turning to national compulsory sterilization, "at least for the time being."

The new plan comes after an eight-month reevaluation of one of the world's oldest family planning programs. The old program was based on campaigns to raise public awareness of the need to limit family size and to encourage acceptance of abortion and contraception.

But the old plan has failed to bring the birth rate below the current rate of 58,000 new births a day and an over-all population increase of over 13 million a year, more than the population of Australia.

Singh said public discussion over the past eight months has prepared India for more stringent birth control measures, but most of the nation still lacks the administrative and medical ability to mount a national mandatory sterilization drive.

"We are of the view that where a state legislature, in the exercise of its own powers, decides that the time is ripe and it is necessary to pass legislation for compulsory sterilization, it may do so," he said in a policy statement.

Singh said the federal government would advise states to limit families to three children and to make any law uniformly applicable to all Indians regardless of race, religion or caste.

Three of India's 22 states are now considering compulsory sterilization measures, but only Maharashtra has introduced a bill providing fines and jail terms for couples who do not voluntarily limit their families to three children.

Color adds to Easter egg battle

PETERS HOLLOW, Tenn. (AP) — Tom Peters is bringing out a new weapon this year in his attempt to win the annual Peters Hollow Easter Egg Fight: colored eggs.

Some say the contest began in the 1820s when the men of Rome Hollow and those of Peters Hollow, both in the East Tennessee mountains, challenged each other to meet Easter Sunday and determine whose hens laid the hardest eggs.

At 1 p.m. Sunday, hundreds of contestants will gather at Buster Peters' home and the traditional challenges of "I fight ye" or "come hit me" will resound.

Testimony in murder trial

Defendant visited Meras on day of killing: witness

A witness in the West Valley Superior Court murder trial of Samuel Jones has placed the defendant in the home of Ontario drug counselor Raymond Meras on Nov. 25, the day Meras was believed shot to death.

Witness Fermie White told the jury and Judge Clifton L. Allen that on Nov. 25 he had been with Meras, Jones and Francis Anthony in an alley between Meras' house and a Circle K Market.

He said that Jones and Anthony were interested in discussing with Meras the sale of a disabled horse Meras owned. White said that Meras offered them a drink of wine and they had accepted.

Next, White said, Meras invited him, Jones and Anthony into his home, but White said he had refused and decided to leave. White said he last saw Meras, Jones and Anthony in the front room of Meras's home.

White also testified that he had seen Jones with a .22 caliber handgun two weeks prior to the incident.

Another young witness, John Beltran, 15, testified that he was walking home from school the afternoon of Nov. 25 when he saw two men in the alley near the Meras home. He said the two men, both blacks, were talking and one of the men seemed to be threatening the other with his fist. He said one of the men carried a mattress to a shed at Plum Avenue and Sunkist Street. Beltran could not identify either of the men he saw.

Two other prosecution witnesses, neighbors of Meras, testified to seeing two black men leaving Meras's home with a mattress and bookcase the afternoon of Nov. 25. Both witnesses, Helen Robles and Elizabeth Delfin, identified Jones as being one of the men they had seen.

Other witnesses called by Deputy Dist. Atty. James Faust included Ontario police identification officer Larry Lambert, San Bernardino County pathologist Dr. Daniel Rivers, San Bernardino County sheriff's criminalist William Baird, and Ontario resident George Navarro.

Officer Lambert testified to finding in the Meras apartment three empty wine bottles, the neck of a broken wine bottle, broken sticks, and a bloody sheet that covered a divan. Lambert testified that he was able to lift prints off of one of the wine bottles.

Dr. Rivers testifed that he had performed two autopsies on Meras' body. During the first Nov. 26, he found that Meras probably died of multiple head injuries inflicted by a blunt object such as a club or board.

In the second autopsy performed several days later, Rivers said he found a .22 caliber bullet lodged in the victim's neck. He said the bullet had passed downward through Meras' head and lodged in his neck.

Rivers further testified that Meras could have died of the gunshot wound anywhere between eight and 72 hours before the body was discovered on Nov. 26.

Baird said he examined the bullet extracted from Meras' neck and determined it had been fired by a .22 caliber weapon. He could not say which make or model however.

Navarro testified that several days before Meras death he had co-signed a check for over $300 made out to Meras. He said that when he last saw Meras he still had the largest portion of the money with him.

Police in the murder investigation contend that Meras was murdered and then robbed by his assailants.

The prosecution phase of the murder trial that began in the West Valley court earlier this week is drawing to a close. The defense led by Jone's attorney Ted Hewitt is expected to begin next week. The trial was in recess Friday.

Doris Day weds for 4th time

CARMEL (AP) — A tearful Doris Day wed a Beverly Hills man in a quiet fireside ceremony at the home of a friend, the presiding judge said Friday.

The marriage was the starlet's fourth.

Municipal Court Judge Eugene Harrah said the 52-year-old actress was married to Barry D. Comden, 41, Wednesday night with only eight guests present, including the court clerk who issued a marriage license and served as matron of honor.

"She's just like on the screen, sweet and outgoing" the judge said in a telephone interview. "She's a very nice person."

During the wedding, Miss Day wore a beige pants suit and carried a bouquet. Comden wore a light blue leisure suit.

Cake, champagne and hors d'oeuvres were served at a reception following the wedding at the home of Larry Spector, owner of a restaurant and inn at nearby Big Sur.

Man gets 5 years to life in slaying

A Glendora man has been sentenced to state prison after pleading guilty to second-degree murder in the slaying July 17 of the wife of a friend.

Leslie Z. Chadd, 27, was sentenced to prison for from five years to life by Pomona Superior Court Judge Sam Cianchetti.

Chadd, and the victim's husband, David Miller, 46, were arrested by sheriff's homicide detectives after an autopsy revealed that Mrs. Helen Miller, 39, of 5909 Damehurst Ave., Glendora, had not died of what at first was believed to be a self-inflicted throat slashing.

The victim's body was found in a car in a field adjacent to the Foothill Freeway near Lone Pine Avenue in Glendora. Investigators said Miller told them his wife was suicidal when she left home that night and the theory at first was that she had killed herself. But an autopsy revealed she had been strangled before her throat was cut.

Both Chadd and Miller were arrested, but evidence against Miller was insufficient and the no complaint was issued against Miller.

Rites to be held for crash victim

Funeral services will be held Monday for an 18-year-old Alta Loma woman who died when her car crashed into a signal light at Haven Avenue and 19th Street.

Julie Lynn Brown of 10350 Base Line Road, was declared dead on arrival at San Antonio Community Hospital following the Thursday night accident in Alta Loma.

The victim was southbound on Haven approaching 19th Street at a high rate of speed, according to the California Highway Patrol. She suddenly hit her brakes, causing the wheels to lock into a skid on the rain-soaked road, patrolmen said.

The woman's car then began sliding and crashed into the signal light pole, wrapping around it, according to authorities.

Firemen took more than 45 minutes to free the victim from the wreckage.

Miss Brown is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doran D. Brown of the Base Line Road address.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the chapel of Stone Funeral Home in Upland. Cremation will be private. Memorial contributions may be sent to the Bethel Congregational Church, Ontario.

Pope marks Good Friday

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI limped as he carried a light wooden cross in a Good Friday evening procession and later spoke of the "mystery of the redeeming power of our own suffering."

When he stopped for prayers, Pope Paul held the cross up firmly in view of thousands of Romans and foreigners gathered near the Colosseum.

Beset by old age and personal abuse, Pope Paul heard himself described at an earlier Vatican service as "this crucified one of the contemporary church."

Pope Paul sat in his throne in St. Peter's Basilica as a Capuchin friar and preacher of the papal household told an audience of thousands that popes are bound to share Christ's sufferings. He said Pope Paul suffered at the hands of "many manipulators of public opinion through the mass media, men of science, culture and art."

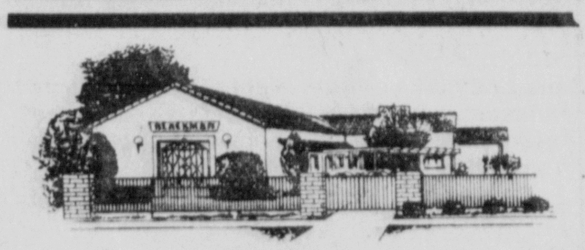

In the evening, Pope Paul carried the cross for 17 minutes of a procession from the Colosseum to the Palatine Hill, where he spoke of the "mystery of the redeeming power of our own suffering when it is united with the passion of Christ."

He has often spoken of the suffering that conflicts over matters of faith and morals in his church caused him.

JEAN B. WALTON

WILLIAM B. DUNSETH

RICHARD A. FASS

ROBERT T. VOELKEL

Vice presidents appointed at P.C.

Three members of the Pomona College administrative staff have been promoted to vice presidents.

Scheduled to assume the No. 2 position in the college will be Robert T. Voelkel, now dean of the college, who will become vice president and remain dean of the college.

Jean B. Walton, currently dean of students and dean of women, will become vice president for student affairs and remain dean of women.

William B. Dunseth, now associate vice president and director of estate planning, will become vice president for development. Dunseth will succeed the retiring Richard T. Nimmons, vice president for administration and development for the past 13 years.

The appointments by the board of trustees were announced by college President David Alexander.

A fourth Pomona College vice president, Frederick F. Moon III, assumed his duties as vice president and treasurer last October. His major responsibilities call for supervision of the college's investments and preparation of the annual college budget.

Richard A. Fass, presently associate dean of students and dean of men, has been named dean of students and dean of men.

Voelkel, a member of the Pomona College faculty since 1962, was a professor and chairman of the religion department before his appointment as dean of the college last September. Because he was committed to plans for a sabbatical year in Germany, he will assume his new position and title when he returns to the campus next Sept. 1. During his absence the position of acting dean has been filled by Virginia Crosby, associate professor of Romance languages.

R. Stanton Hales, associate dean of the college and associate professor of mathematics, will continue in those positions under Voelkel.

Miss Walton, who is recognized throughout the nation as a leader in the study of educational trends as they affect the woman student, has been a member of the Pomona College administrative staff since 1949. Since 1972 she has chaired the Commission on Women's Education at Pomona College, a group designed to study ways of improving the education and employment of women.

Dunseth, one of the nation's leading authorities in the field of estate planning and educational philanthrophy, was held top administrative positions at Pomona College on two different occasions, from 1959 to 1964, and from 1972 to the present, most of the latter period as associate vice president and director of estate planning.

During the eight-year interval between his Pomona College appointments Dunseth was general secretary of the California State Colleges under Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke for four years, and served a similar term as vice president of the development fund at the University of Oregon.

Fass is a former assistant professor of chemistry. He first joined the Pomona College faculty in 1969.

OIA passenger total increased

The Ontario International Airport reported 303,864 airplane passengers and 1.7 million pounds of air cargo passed through the facility during the first three months this year.

This compared to 282,965 passengers and 1.4 million pounds of air cargo for the same period last year. The airport also reported 39,348 flight operations during the first three months compared to 34,908 a year ago.

Jaycees treat with egg hunt

More than 50 children at Le Roy Boys' Home in La Verne participated last Saturday in a special Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Pomona Jaycees.

The children were awarded prizes following the event.

The chairman of the Jaycees community service project was Steve Yohnke, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Dave Kriezel and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mueller.

Ontarian dies of gun wound

Franklin Holbrook, 70, of 119 W. Elm St., Ontario, died Thursday of what police said was a self-inflicted gunshot wound of the head.

Holbrook was found mortally wounded in the bedroom of his home about 5:25 p.m. Thursday. A handgun lay beside his right hand on the bed. Mr. Holbrook died later at Ontario Community Hospital.

Montclair police make long-distance arrests

Two former Montclair men were booked in the West End Jail Friday on charges of burglary and receiving stolen property after they were served arrest warrants in Fayetteville, Ark., by Montclair police.

William Leonard Felkins, 19, and Daniel Wayne DeWoody, 19, according to police, left the state recently in an attempt to flee prosecution on charges stemming from five residential burglaries and car thefts in Montclair since November.

Police said that Felkins had been charged with felony grand theft, receiving stolen property, burglary, and auto theft. His bail was set at $24,000. DeWoody is charged with receiving stolen property and burglary.

Police said the men left the state after being released on their own recognizance by the courts. The men were to return to the court for sentencing on related charges.

Mail service common complaint to lawmakers

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the major reasons why Americans write their representatives in Congress is to complain about mail service, according to an informal sampling of 15 lawmakers.

Four said the Postal Service is the issue raised most often in their constituent mail. Several others agreed the Postal Service might be the leading issue but said they had no exact statistics available.

The 15 lawmakers represent a variety of constituencies and political philosophies.

An aide to Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., said, "I don't think there's a more unpopular agency in the federal government. The reason is that everyone receives mail and there's a lot of room for complaints. Other agencies aren't so visible."

An aide to Rep. Paul Simon, D-Ill., who analyzes the mail in terms of issues, said that in the first 10 weeks of this year the office had received 275 personally typed or handwritten letters about the Postal Service. This represents one out of every 18 letters to Simon during that period, he said. The second biggest issue was abortion, which stimulated 115 letters, he said.

Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-Ny.Y., who represents Brooklyn, receives "consistently moderately heavy volume" of letters about mail service, an aide said. "Most mail is spasmodic. Whatever is the hot issue, people write about. But mail on the Postal Service is always fairly heavy. They say that mail service is lousy and they complain that rates keep going up."

Members from rural constituencies also say more of the mail about the Postal Service protests the agency's policy of closing certain unprofitable rural post offices.

An aide to Rep. Richard H. Ichord, a Democrat who represents a rural district in Missouri, said, "We get an increasing amount of postal mail. The predominant concern is the closing of small post offices, although there has always been a lot expressing dissatisfaction with service and with increases in postal rates."

An aide to Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said, "The Postal Service is among the heaviest areas that we get mail on. It's overwhelmingly negative. All the letters seem to express dissatisfaction with the Post Service."

The offices of Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., and Rep. Clair W. Burgener, R-Calif., reported increases in complaint mail about the Postal Service. "It's up about 50 per cent from November and December," a Randolph aide said.

Some offices reported little change in the volume of complaints about mail service, including the offices of Reps. Jack Edwards, R-Ala., and Philip Burton, D-Calif.

"Most of those that we get are about small post offices. Some have been about poor service but the number of complaints about service hasn't been that great," said an aide to Edwards.

An assistant to Burton said about postal mail, "It's not heavy, but it's pretty consistent."

An assistant to Sen. Bob Packwood, R-Ore., indicated there has been no recent increase in the volume of constituent mail about the Postal Service but that the volume of such mail has always been high. "In terms of continuing concern, the Postal Service has been the biggest issue over the seven years the senator has been in Congress," the Packwood aide said.

Other offices that reported a high volume of complaints about the Postal Service were those of Sens. James L. Buckley, Con-R-N.Y., and John V. Tunney, D-Calif., and Reps. Marjorie S. Holt, R-Md., Edward J. Derwinski, R-Ill., and Alphonzo Bell, R-Calif.

Writing to Congress is not the only way to complain about the mails.

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar has encouraged consumers to bring their complaints directly to the Postal Service. Letters to Congress members often are referred to the Postal Service for reply.

Bailar last Oct. 1 invited complaints by making available from post offices and letter carriers a postpaid card for commenting on service.

So far, 394,200 of the cards have been sent to the Postal Service, which guarantees that the sender will be contacted about the concern expressed on the cards.

Postal patrons also can write to the Postal Service's in-house consumer advocate. About 13,500 letters and post cards to the consumer advocate last winter persuaded Bailar to reverse his decision to remove coin-operated photocopying service from post office lobbies.

Consumers also can write the Postal Rate Commission, an independent agency, to complain about the Postal Service. A spokesman said the commission has received 102 complaints so far this year.

Kissinger has lost old bounce—British weekly

LONDON (AP) — The London weekly Economist said today Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger "no longer seems to have the old Kissinger bounce. He has every reason to be tired and dispirited ..."

"For the past two years the American Congress's attempt to get in on the act has produced one confusion after another — Soviet emigration, the arms ban on Turkey, the Angola mess — which Congress has then left Kissinger to try to clear up ... His Soviet policy has gone skidding on the icy surface of the Russian will to power. It is enough to make any secretary of state feel depressed."

The Economist said that although three quarters of the abuse now flying about Kissinger is unjustified and is pointed at the wrong target, the other quarter of the criticism is starting to tell. This criticism, the Economist went on, consists of:

His belief that it was going to be possible to bind the Soviet Union into a network of agreements which would prevent it from throwing its weight about, and:

His detente policy, which never seemed to have included an attempt to make the Russians agree about the rules of the balance of power in Europe.

Series on family life in Pomona

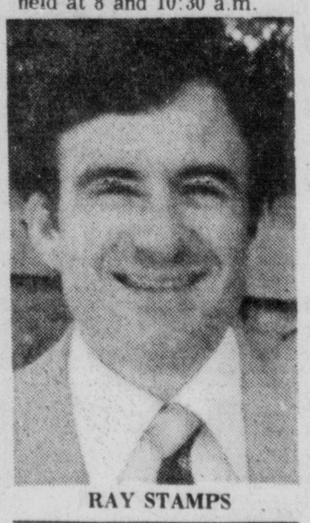

A series of six weekly lectures on enriching family life will be offered starting Sunday at 6 p.m. at the North Towne Church of Christ in Pomona.

Ray Stamps, the minister at the church, will be the speaker. VALLEY COMMUNITY DRIVE-IN CHURCH
Lone Hill Avenue and Covina Boulevard
San Dimas, California

Drive-in is 11 years old

The Valley Community Drive-in Church of San Dimas will celebrate its 11th anniversary and Easter this Sunday.

The first service of the congregation was held April 18, 1965 at the Covina Drive-in Theater. Sponsored by the Reformed Church in America denomination, the infant church held its regular Sunday worship services at the drive-in theater for over a year until June 1966 when it began services at its present location.

The new location had a small, temporary building for the minister and choir and the congregation sat in cars in the drive-in area.

In 1967, the congregation built a 1,000 seat sanctuarey designed to allow the minister to speak to both walk-in and drive-in audiences at the same time. Construction of the two-story Christian Fellowship Center followed.

Three morning services will be held Sunday. The Rev. Melvin De Vries will speak on the topic "The Morning of All Mornings" at the 6 a.m. sunrise service. At the 8:30 and 11 a.m. services, his topic will be "Easter: When A Hopeless End Became Endless Hope." A brass ensemble and special choir music will be part of all services.

A Moody Science Institute film entitled "Facts of Faith" will be shown in the sanctuary at 7 p.m. There is no admission charge, but an offering will be taken.

ELAINE EDWARDS — A former drug addict and actress turned evangelist, will be guest speaker Friday night at 7:30 at the Valley Christian Center of San Dimas. She will give testimony of her Christian experiences.

DIANA NORRIS

Soprano will be featured soloist

Soprano soloist Diana Norris of Pomona will be featured in two performances of "Alleluia!" Sunday at the Pomona First Assembly of God Church. She is a member of the church.

Performances of the praise musical will be at 6 and 8:15 p.m. at the church at 305 E. Arrow Highway. Both will be open to the public.

A 30-piece symphony orchestra from Los Angeles County, and the church's 60-voice Cathedral Choir will perform music for "Alleluia!", described as church music which incorporates the theme of Christ's life, resurrection, birth and sacrificial death through a coalition between choir, orchestra, soloists and audience.

Minister of music David H. Johnston will direct. Additional soloists are tenor Rich Homutoff, baritone Ron Ray, soprano Diane Brownell, tenor Howard Reid and bass Bill Nott.

Associate Pastor Don Anderson will serve as leader.

"Alleluia!" was written by Bill and Gloria Gaither and Ron Huff in 1973.

Film on Holy Land at Central

A new Tehnicolor gospel film "The Land Where Jesus Walked," will be presented Sunday at 9:30 a.m. at the Central Baptist Church in Pomona.

The 55-minute color film stars John R. Rice and a host of other Christian actors and actresses.

Photographed mainly in the Holy Land, the picture literally takes the Bible and makes it come alive, according to Ron English, writer of the film.

The Rev. Ray Batema, minister of the church, announced that the film is open to the public free of charge.

Catholic teachers study Jews

CHICAGO (AP) — Through March and April, Roman Catholic elementary and high school teachers in Chicago are taking a special six-session course on "understanding the Jew."

The classes, taught by rabbis and Christian experts on the subject, were developed in cooperation between the Chicago archdiocesan school board and the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

The course will examine Judaism and the Jewish cultural milieu at the time of Jesus, the development of Judaism since that time, the Nazi holocaust and the meaning of Israel to modern Jews.

Choirs in candlelight pageant

The combined choirs of Greater New Light Baptist Church in Pomona will present their annual candlelight Easter pageant entitled "The Way to the Cross" at 6 p.m. Sunday.

The special program was written by Mrs. Louise Shropshire, minister of music and noted gospel singer and song writer.

Mrs. Helen Plummer will assist at the piano and the Rev. T. Pearson will serve as the organist.

The public is invited to the musical program.

The Rev. David M. Held will preach on "His Eternal Victory" at the Easter Sunday service at the Claremont United Church of Christ, Congregational, at 10 a.m.

The Chancel Choir, directed by Louis Ronfeldt, will sing "Anthem for Easter" for choir and trumpets, by William G. Blanchard, and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Beethoven's "The Mount of Olives." Mrs. Georgia Warden will sing "Alleluia" by Mozart. The Carillon Choir, directed by Lee Waggener, will sing "Praise the Lord, Alleluia," and the Bellringers, directed by William Waggener, will play "Fanfare for Bells." John Steele Ritter will play the organ.

Members of the congregation will take part in the community-wide Easter sunrise service in Claremont's Memorial Park at 6:30 a.m., and in an innovative Easter celebration at the church at 8 a.m.

The public is invited to all services.

Claremont United Methodist

The Claremont United Methodist Church will celebrate Easter with two festive worship services, a sunrise service and a fingerfood breakfast.

A dramatic and colorful processional consisting of acolytes, banner carriers, handbell groups, choir and clergy, accompanied by trumpets and organ, will mark the opening of worship at the 9:15 and 11:05 a.m. services.

The Rev. James W. Dallas, senior minister, will have as his subject "Light by Which to See."

The Youth Handbell Choirs, directed by Mrs. Jane Weidhofer, will perform at both services. The choirs will be directed by Don Brinegar and Wently Losh will be the organist.

Those wishing to attend the sunrise service are asked to be at the church by 4:45 a.m. to join a caravan going to Mt. Baldy for the service.

At 8 a.m., a fingerfood breakfast will be served in the Round Building of the church.

Peace Lutheran Church

A 6 a.m. sunrise service will be held Easter Sunday at the Peace Lutheran Church in Pomona.

A giant Easter cross made of fresh calla lilies will be displayed in the chancel area of the church.

Following the service, men of the congregation will prepare and serve a pancake breakfast.

At 9 a.m. a festival service will be held. The Rev. Ed Krueger's sermon topic will be "The Trumpets of Victory."

Dave Henslin has been elected to represent the congregation at the 30th convention of the Southern California District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod Monday through Thursday at the Anaheim Convention Center.

Christ Lutheran Church

In addition to Easter services Sunday, an outdoor tomb used in the recent "Passion Play" presentation will be open for inspection at Christ Lutheran Church in Chino.

Duplicate services are scheduled for 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. Sunday. The topic for The Rev. A. L. Plueger, pastor, will be "The Happiest Day in the World."

An Easter breakfast sponsored by the church men's group will be served from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Sunday parish school for youth and adults will be combined with an outdoor lesson at the tomb from 10 to 10:20 a.m.

South Hills Presbyterian

The children and adult choirs of the South Hills Presbyterian Church in Pomona will perform Sunday during an 11 a.m. Easter worship service.

The children's choir directed by Kathryn Hill, will sing "Bethlehem, Galilee and Gethsemane," while the adult choir, conducted by Rev. Paschal Banks, will sing exerpts from the cantata "Glory to the Lamb" and conclude with the Hallelujah Chorus.

Alvin Henry will be the featured soloist, performing "The Holy City."

The Rev. Ivan Walks, pastor, will deliver a sermon entitled "What Is Your Resurrection Story?"

St. Margaret Mary Church

Easter Sunday Masses at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church in Chino will be celebrated at 7:30, 9, 10:30 a.m. and noon. There also will be 7:30 p.m. Mass.

L.V. Church of Brethren

The La Verne Church of the Brethren will hold its second annual Easter breakfast at 9 a.m. Sunday in the Fellowship Hall. Milan Rupel will have charge of the event.

Easter services will start at 10:30 in the sanctuary. The Rev. Leland Wilson will talk on "The Stranger Who Asks Questions."

Music for the services will be by the Sanctuary Choir under the direction of Steve Engle, music director, T. Michael Ryan, a classical guitarist, Bobbi Welch, contralto and by the children's and the bell choir.

San Dimas United Methodist

San Dimas United Methodist Church will serve an Easter breakfast Sunday from 7:30 to 10 a.m.

Congregation members will also participate in the seventh annual Easter sunrise service at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Covina Hills at 5:15 a.m.

The Chancel Choir will sing the theme of John Peterson's "No Greater Love" and the Cherub Choir will sing "Rejoice On This Glad Easter Day" and "All Night, All Day" at the 10:30 a.m. Sunday service.

The Rev. Ed Burn, pastor, will speak on the sermon topic "You Can Have A Wonderful Life!"

During the youth fellowship Tuesday, volleyball games and a supper will be held. On Friday night, there will be fun and fellowship for adults and a potluck supper at 6:30, followed by travel pictures of Europe taken by David Groendyke.

Montclair Trinity Lutheran

Dorris Carls has been elected by Trinity Lutheran Church of Montclair to represent the congregation at the 30th annual convention of the Southern California District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

The convention will be held Monday through Thursday at the Anaheim Convention Center. Clergy and lay delegates representing 200 congregations of Southern California, Arizona and Nevada will attend.

An Easter breakfast will be served by the youth at the church Sunday, beginning at 7 a.m. following the special 6 a.m. worship service. The Rev. Maynard Saeger, pastor, will speak on the topic "He Has Risen."

Angels win in 11

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

ANAHEIM-— Andy Etchebarren was a two time hero Friday night in leading the Angels to a 6-5 victory over the Detriot Tigers in 11 innings.

Not only did Etchebarren tie the game with a two-out single in the ninth, he won it in the 11th with a line single up the middle to score Dave Chalk with the winning run.

Detroit's ace lefthanded reliever, John Hiller, quickly got ahead of pinch hitter Etchebarren with an 0-2 count but Etchebarren followed with a soft liner to right-center to score Paul Dade with the tying run.

The catcher from Hacienda Heights followed with his hit in the 11th against rookie righthander Steve Grilli to wrap up the Angels' third straight victory after opening the season with four losses.

Chalk, who had three hits, opened the 11th with a clean single to left to greet Grilli, who took over for Hiller. Rusty Torres sacrificed Chalk to second to set the stage for Etchebarren.

"Andy told me he would drive in the winning run if Rusty would move Dave to second and he did," said winning pitcher Jim Brewer, who was very effective in 2 2/3 innings.

After Detroit scored three runs in the top of the eighth to take a 5-4 lead, Brewer held the Tigers to two harmless singles through the final three innings.

Actually, the Angels should have won the game earlier as mental mistakes kept the Tigers alive.

Detroit grabbed a 2-0 lead in the third inning thanks to Angel outfielders throwing to wrong bases.

After Tom Veryzer and Gary Sutherland hit back-to-back singles, Ben Oglivie scored Veryzer with a sacrifice fly. However, Sutherland advanced to second when centerfielder Torres threw to the plate and nobody cut it off.

The play became important when Dan Meyer followed with a single to score Sutherland. Meyer then advanced to second as the Angels again failed to execute the cut off.

Starter Don Kirkwood settled down to hold the Tigers down until the seventh.

Manager Dick Williams decided Kirkwood had pitched enough after Sutherland singled and Meyer drew a walk. Big Willie Horton belted reliever Dick Drago's second pitch for a double to score pinchrunner Ron LeFlore.

Brewer was then brought in to face lefthander Rusty Staub.

The redhaired outfielder hit a grounder to second baseman Jerry Remy, who elected to try to nail Meyer at the plate. However, his throw went past catcher Ed Herrmann for an error.

Horton also scored when the Angels failed to cover at the plate when Herrmann went after the ball.

The Angels scored three unearned runs in the fourth inning off of Tiger starter Joe Coleman.

Coleman led to his own misfortunes when he was charged with an error when he missed the bag covering first on a grounder hit by Bruce Bochte. Bill Melton followed with a single but Coleman got Herrmann on a fly for the second out.

Joe Lahoud lined a double to right to score Bochte and Melton with the tying runs and Chalk followed with a single to give the Halos a 3-2 lead.

Dave Collins' two-out single in the seventh scored Chalk for the Angels' fourth run after Coleman opened the inning by hitting Chalk on his helmet. Torres scarificed Chalk to second and the Angel runner moved on to third on Orlando Ramirez' grounder.

ANGEL ANGLES — Gary Ross will make his first start of the season for the Angels in today's 1 p.m. contest against Detroit lefthander Dave Roberts, who was acquired in a winter trade with Houston.

Official Little League bats will be distributed free to all youngsters through age 14 at today's games. Plenty of tickets are still available at the Big A gates.

In Sunday's 1 p.m. series finale, the probable pitchers are Andy Hassler vs. Ray Bare.

Williams used pitching ace Frank Tanana as a pinch-runner in the 10th. Tanana, who never bats, didn't seem to know where to go in his debut on the base paths. He ran to Melton who hit a two-out double. However, Hiller got Billy Smith on a fly to end the inning to end Tanana's chances of scoring.

The Angels hit two doubles to give them 17 in the last six games. They have also hit three home runs. It took 17 games to hit three last year.

Detroit stole one base to give the opponents 18 steals in 21 tries against the Halos.

Tiger fans better take a look at their team this weekend. Detroit won't return to the Big A until August 30.

Damien cops Elks consolation crown

By PAUL CLICK
PB Correspondent

La Puente High captured the Pomona Elks Tournament crown Friday night as they defeated number-one ranked Edgewood 5-2 at Ralph Welch Park.

Damien High won its third consecutive consolation crown by dumping Royal Oak 7-4 and Fontana High took third place in the tourney by edging Covina in a wild eight-inning affair, 9-8.

Ricky Gonzales drilled three of Damien's ten hits. Gonzales' lead-off single in the fifth inning set up three runs which put the Spartans ahead for good. Besides the clutch single, Gonzales added a double and triple.

The Spartans in the fifth inning with the score tied at 2-2 put together three runs on three hits and two walks. The big blow of the inning was a run-scoring double off the bat of Steve Larson. Damien added two insurance runs to its 5-2 lead in the sixth to go out in front 7-2.

"It wasn't one of (Todd) Bell's best pitched games," commented coach Matt Kolodge. "He threw a lot of pitches outside the strike zone. But it was one of our better hitting days of the year and we were able to get him some runs.

"We usually don't hit for power but we did today. I was pleased with our overall performance in the tournament as we played good defense and hit the ball. I just hope it continues into league play."

Bell, despite having control problems, fanned eight Royal Oak batters. Royal Oak touched him up for seven hits but he was able to pitch out of several tough jams.

It was a well-played contest as both schools committed only one error apiece.

Coach Kolodge noted, "Mark Schlesinger played steady ball during the four-day tournament. He was hitting .400 coming into the last game and he fielded the ball flawlessly. I think the biggest surprise was his pitching performance."

Schlesinger in the tournament pitched outstanding ball as he picked up a win and a save. He pitched seven innings of four-hit ball in one game and finished up Friday's game with two innings of shutout pitching. He was named to the all-tournament team for his pitching efforts.

La Puente upset Edgewood in the championship game as Edgewood's defense fell apart in the sixth inning. Shortstop Larry Martin committed two key errors and the Warriors took advantage by punching in four runs. Edgewood's pitcher Keith Freeburg didn't help his team's cause as he walked in a run and failed to nail a runner at third.

"The tournament is probably the best baseball we played this year," said La Puente's Dick Brown. "We've had a season where we played up and down as we haven't had any consistency.

"In the tournament we finally jelled as a unit. Earlier in the year Edgewood beat us 10-0 so we were really up for tonight's game with them. We're a small team but when you play aggressive ball and swing the bats it doesn't matter what size you are."

Russel Shirley, named the tournaments most valuable player, pitched a strong game as he held the strong-hitting Edgewood team to just two runs and five hits. He fanned six and walked two.

Shirley along with a fine pitching performance belted two home runs earlier in the tournament and pitched a two-hit game.

Brown noted, "Shirley had an outstanding tournament and his pitching has been tremendous the past couple of ballgames. He's pitching real well now."

Edgewood had a 18-game winning streak broken by La Puente. Their only other season loss was to Damien at the beginning of this season.

The battle for third place was captured by Fontana as they scored twice in the eighth to win the contest. Fontana had 14 hits while Covina knocked out 11 safties.

Covina High catcher Rick Roth went four-for-five with four RBIs, Fontana's Javier Avila was four-for-four with three RBIs.

Dodgers remain winless

ATLANTA (AP) — Darrell Evans smashed a three-run homer and Roger Moret put down a ninth-inning Los Angeles rally as the Atlanta Braves handed the winless Los Angeles Dodgers their fifth consecutive setback Friday night by a 3-1 score.

Evans' first homer of the year came in the fifth inning off loser Tommy John, the Dodger veteran who was making his first major league appearance since July 17, 1974, when he ruptured a ligament in his pitching elbow.

Rowland Office started Atlanta's three-run fifth inning with a bunt single to the right of the mound. Ex-Dodger Jerry Royster followed with a single and Office went to third when right fielder Joe Ferguson booted the ball for an error. Evans then belted his homer over the 385-foot mark in rightcenter.

The Dodgers scored off Pablo Torrealba, Atlanta's second pitcher, with one out in the ninth. Ferguson singled, Dusty Baker walked and the bases were loaded when shortstop Darrel Chaney booted Ivan DeJesus' grounder.

Ellie Rodriguez' pinch single produced one run but Moret came on and stranded three runners by fanning Bill Buckner and retiring Ted Sizemore on a fly ball.

Atlanta starter Dick Ruthven, 2-0, worked into the seventh inning when he allowed a leadoff triple by Ron Cey past a diving Office in center field. Ferguson walked, but Torrealba came on to close the door on the Dodgers. Royster turned in the key play, making a diving stop on DeJesus' smash, scrambling to his feet and throwing Cey out at the plate.

John, the 32-year-old lefthander, had more trouble with wildness than with Atlanta batters early in the game. After retiring the first two Braves, John issued two straight walks but then got Ken Henderson to foul out.

Chaney laced a two-out single for the Braves in the second, but was stranded.

The Braves staged a serious threat in the third after Office became John's only strikeout victim. Royster walked, Evans singled and Jimmy Wynn walked to load the bases. John got out of that jam when Henderson bounced into a double play.

Meanwhile, Ruthven retired the first 10 Dodgers before walking Sizemore in the fourth. Steve Garvey collected the first Los Angeles hit, a chopper through the right side that sent Sizemore to third, but Cey forced Garvey to end the inning.

The Dodgers got two runners aboard with one out in the fifth but John bunted into a double play.

L.A. leads series 2-1

Kings host Bruins tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Marcel Dionne came to the Los Angeles Kings in trade from Detroit as owner Jack Kent Cooke sought more scoring power for his entry in the National Hockey League.

He got the power. In the past two quarter-final games of the National Hockey League playoffs against Boston, Dionne has scored five goals.

Three came Thursday night as the Kings won 6-4 and took a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven series.

"We got some breaks and we played well, but this is a tough series," Dionne commented. "Those fans were going crazy, weren't they?"

The sellout crowd of 16,005 gave Dionne a standing ovation with such enthusiasm that Dionne admitted, "If there was a place to hide, I would have. I thought there was an earthquake."

Coach Don Cherry of the Bruins, looking forward to tonight's game No. 4 at the Forum, said, "Somebody will have to stop him.

"He played his regular shift, worked the power play, killed penalties and scored all those goals. You can't do much more than that."

Boston had taken a 2-0 lead in the first period, but Los Angeles evened the count before the end of the stanza on goals by Mike Murphy and Dionne. It was tied again at 3-3 at the end of the second period, Dionne scoring again. And he had one more in the three-goal third.

"Boston has a tough team," said Dionne who scored twice against the Bruins in the second game when the Kings won at Boston 3-2 in overtime.

"They played well here, but we got some breaks and now we're ahead. I hope we can stay there."

Mike Murphy, the captain of the Kings, said of Dionne, "The big thing is that he was skating so well with the puck. When he does, he opens up the ice for the rest of us. He forces two or three men on him and disrupts their whole defense."

Although Gary Edwards worked in the nets during the second game at Boston, Coach Bob Pulford returned Rogie Vachon to the goalie's spot for the third game. But this time, the Kings had the most shots on goal—34 against 31 for the Bruins.

Dionne's third goal was the most memorable of the evening as it came after the score was knotted at 3-3.

Taking Dave Hutchinson's lead pass near the red line, Dionne skated to the blue line and fired from 50 feet out with a shot that glanced off the crossbar and into the net.

Following tonight's game, the teams return to Boston to play next Tuesday.

Selmon brothers ink Tampa pacts

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — No. 1 college draft pick Leroy Selmon and his brother Dewey, both of Oklahoma, signed multi-year contracts Friday with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

The new National Football League club refused to disclose terms of the contracts, other than to say they were separate pacts.

Leroy, 21, a 6-foot-3, 262 pound, defensive end, capped an outstanding collegiate career with the Outland Trophy Award.

Dewey, 22, a 257-pound defensive tackle, was the Bucs bonus pick in the second round of last week's college draft.

Their signing comes on the eve of the Bucs first camp for rookies and free agents.

Evonne, Chris to meet in finals

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Evonne Goolagong and Chris Evert won tough matches Friday night to play their way out of the round robin and into today's finals of the $150,000 Women's Tennis Association Championship.

Miss Goolagong outran the overweight Martina Navratilova, 6-4, 7-5, and Miss Evert subdued a hot-and-cold Virginia Wade, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1. The winners will meet at 11 a.m. PST in the nationally televised finals.

Both top-seeded Miss Goolagong and second-seeded, Miss Evert had rough going through their earlier matches and said they were relieved to be past their ordeals. Miss Goolagong also defeated Cynthia Doerner, Marita Redondo and Francois Durr, while Evert had it a bit harder beating Lesley Hunt, Rosie Casals and Sue Barker.

"I feel I've sort of got over the rough part," Miss Goolagong said after beating Miss Navratilova in the Virginia Slims-sponsored tournament, richest women's tennis event in the world.

"This part was nerve-wracking," Miss Goolagong said. "Both Martina and I were nervous. I started off very tentative and just sort of felt my way into the game."

Miss Navratilova built a 4-1 lead on two service breaks in the first set before the smoothstriding Miss Goolagong wore her down with a placement attack and won the last five game straight.

The second set was decided in the 12th game, when Miss Navratilova appeared to tire from racing around the court and turned conservative.

"Goolagong passed her twice on forehands down the sideline and with a crosscourt half volley, but then double faulted and ended the match by hitting a backhand out of bounds.

Miss Evert quickly won the first set from Miss Wade, then broke her in the second game of the second set to hold a 2-0 lead. But Miss Wade gathered herself in the third game, taking Miss Evert to deuce five times before breaking her as Miss Evert's back court game began to falter.

Miss Wade also broke service in the fifth, seventh and ninth games, losing her service to Miss Evert in the sixth, a game in which Miss Wade ran into the railing bordering the court while chasing a drop volley.

In the final game of the second set Miss Wade dominated with a series of smashes that finally put Miss Evert on the floor. She lay there laughing as Miss Wade's overhead bounced into the stands.

Then Miss Wade lapsed into an error-plagued third set, whacking ball after ball into the net. She won only the third game and never was able to play Miss Evert on even terms after that.

In the second act Miss Goolagong and Miss Navratilova traded service breaks in the third and fourth games. The match wasn't decided until the 12th game, when Martina appeared to tire and let her crisp serve and volley game lapse into a conservative pace.

Miss Goolagong put two passing shots past her, one a forehand down the sideline and the second a crosscourt half volley to take a 0-30 lead on Miss Navratilova's serve. Martina came back winning a point on her big serve, but then she double faulted and finished the match by hitting a backhand out of bounds.

"I started being too cautious," Miss Navratilova said, explaining her downfall.

It was the fourth straight victory in a memorable tournament for Miss Goolagong, who saw her string of 16 straight two-set wins ended earlier in the week and who has had difficulty in every match.

Morgan couldn't remember it all

CINCINNATI (AP) — Joe Morgan had planned for the day months in advance—but he forgot something.

Sunday was the day the Cincinnati Reds star was to receive the 1975 National League's Most Valuable Player Award. He had asked the Reds to stage the ceremony on April 11 since his father and wife were making a special trip to see the presentation.

Morgan accepted the award prior to the Reds game with the Houston Astros, but his father and wife didn't see the ceremony.

Morgan, caught up in the excitement of the day, forgot to leave tickets for them.

Murcer bats Giants past Darcy, Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bobby Murcer drove in four runs with a two-run homer and a basesloaded single, sparking the San Francisco Giants to a 14-7 victory over the Cincinnati Reds that snapped pitcher Pat Darcy's 10-game winning streak Friday night.

Murcer's home run keyed a three-run fifth inning that propelled the Giants to a 4-0 start against Darcy, 1-1, who won nine straight games to cap his rookie 1975 season.

Murcer also capped San Francisco's six-run ninth with a two-run single off Rawly Eastwick as the Giants ripped five Cincinnati pitchers for 18 hits.

Winner Jim Barr limited the Reds to two hits over the first five innings before tiring. Joe Morgan got the Reds' first hit with a one-out double in the fourth.

The Giants took a 1-0 lead with two out in the top of the fourth when Willie Montanez walked and came around on singles by Chris Speier and Reitz.

Von Joshua ignited the fifth with a single and scored on a triple by Derrel Thomas. Murcer then delivered his second home run of the season, a blast into the right field bleachers.

Darcy, who hadn't lost since last June 29, was victimized by control problems, walking five in his six-innjng stint.

The Reds made it 4-2 in the sixth after Pete Rose walked and Ken Griffey doubled. Rose scored on a sacrifice fly by Morgan, who produced his 600th career RBI, and Tony Perez singled to score Griffey.

Busby activated

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Royals announced Friday that pitcher Steve Busby would be activated from the disabled list Saturday and infielder Dave Nelson would be placed on the 15-day disabled list.

Busby, whose arm has been sore, is scheduled to make his first start of the year Sunday against Cleveland.

Nelson suffered a pulled thigh muscle Tuesday against California.

Long Beach signs Wiley

LONG BEACH — Michael Wiley, the all-CIF basketball performer from Long Beach Poly High School, has announced that he has signed a national letter of intent to enroll next fall at Long Beach State University.

Wiley, 6-7 and 180, was one of the most sought after high school athletes in the nation. The slim star led Long Beach Poly to the 4-A CIF championship, and was named co-CIF player of the year, along with teammate Johnny Nash.

In the CIF playoffs, Wiley was the dominant force for the Jackrabbits, averaging 25 points and 14 rebounds per game. Through the season, Wiley scored at a 17 points per game clip

Aztecs to open in San Jose

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The San Jose Earthquakes, who open the North American Soccer League season here against Los Angeles Saturday night, added an American to their squad Friday when player-coach Gabbo Gavric was sworn in as a U.S. citizen.

Gavric, 37, was born in Yugoslavia but has lived in the United States nine years and applied for citizenship some time ago. The Quakes now have six U.S. citizens on the team, the minimum required by NASL rules.

The Los Angeles lineup includes one of the world's best known players, forward George Best who starred for Manchester United of England before disciplinary problems forced him into early retirement. Best, 29, appeared to be nearing top form in Aztecs' preseason games.

Newcomers on the San Jose team include Yugoslavian veteran Milo Pavlovic and John Rowlands from England. Gavric counts on those two to strengthen the team's defense considerably.

Best is one of several English players added to the Los Angeles team this season. Two others, defender Pete Smith and midfielder Charley Cook, have just joined the team.

Earthquakes midfielder Julie Veee was acquired from Los Angeles in an off-season trade, and other new Quakes include former Tampa Bay goalie Mike Hewitt.

A crowd of about 17,000 is expected for the opener.

Rankin holds edge

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Judy Rankin, fresh from a $32,000 victory two weeks ago, fashioned a nifty four-under-par to take a two-stroke lead after the first round of the $80,000 weather-plagued Ladies Professional Golf tournament Friday.

Miss Rankin, finishing in the dusk on a cold and blustery day, shot a 68 with five birdies and one bogey on the sogging McCormick Ranch Palms Course. She held a two-stroke lead over Sandra Palmer and a three-stoke margin over veteran Marlene Hagge.

Miss Rankin, whose victory at Palm Springs two weeks ago boosted her seasons earnings over the $42,000 mark, said: "My putting was good but I kept the ball close to the hole.

"I played defensively—the safest possible off the tees—then agressively to the greens. My concentration was good today. In bad weather its always better when you concentrate," Miss Rankin.

Only seven players broke par on the 6,142-yard course during the day that was marred by a cold start and a hour and 10 minute delay because of wind and rain.

The winner of the 54-hole tournament will receive $14,000.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT — Ontario Atty. General Roy McMurtry announced Friday that three members of the Phila. Flyers have been charged in connection with an altercation with the police during Thursday's NHL playoff game in Toronto. Facing charges of assault are Joe Watson, Mel Bridgman and Don Saleski.

Bob Eastwood in command

TALLAHASEE, Fla. (AP) — Bob Eastwood, admitting he's been tending more to affairs on the golf course this year, fired a three-under-par 69 Friday and held onto a one-stroke lead after the second round of the $80,000 Tallahassee Open Golf Tournament.

"I haven't done any fishing this year," said Eastwood. "I've been concentrating on golf."

Eastwood, who also owned the first-round lead Thursday after shooting a 66 on the 7,124-yard Killearn Golf and Country Club course, tied for last among the finishers in the 1975 event here. He earned $61.

But this time, Eastwood's 36-hole total gave him a one-shot advantage over Lyn Lott of Douglas, Ga.

The difference, Eastwood explained, is "usually, this is my week for fishing and goofing off."

The Stockton, Calif., resident owned a four-stroke advantage over Fuzzy Zoeller and Ed Sneed, tied for third with 139. Zoller moved into contention with a six-under 66 Friday, and Sneed shot a 70.

At 140 were Gary Koch, John Mahaffey and Bruce Lietzke.

Eastwood had an eagle, three birdies and two bogeys Friday. Four of his sub-par strokes have now come on the 506-yard, par-five 17th hole. He eagled it with a 45-yard sand wedge shot Thursday and chipped in from 15 yards out for an eagle Friday.

Eastwood, 30 and a seven-year PGA tour veteran who has never earned more than $19,000 in a single season, dropped off the tour for two weeks after missing the cut at the Greater Jacksonville Open on March 21.

He's not among the top 100 winners this year, but stands to earn $16,000 if he can hold on to the tournament lead.

Arnold Palmer shot even-par 72 Friday for a one-under 143 after 36 holes to qualify for the tournament's final two rounds. It was only the fourth time in nine tournaments this year that Palmer has survived the cut.

Bettors keep Derby ducats

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Winning money on a horse race isn't always uppermost in a bettor's mind, at least not when the race is the Kentucky Derby.

Literally thousands of win tickets on Derbies as far back as 1928 are still uncashed and it's safe to assume that many of those tickets are now treasured souvenirs.

Jim Filburn, director of mutuels at Churchill Downs, pointed out Friday that two of those souvenirs could date all the way back to 1928, when Reigh Count won the 54th Derby.

The records indicate that Reigh Count, the favorite, paid $6.12 to win. But it is a certainty that those two tickets would be worth much more to a collector.

Filburn holds out little hope that those 1928 tickets will ever show up.

"I imagine they're lost," he said. "I don't even know when was the last time we cashed tickets" as old as that.

"I wish somebody would come in with them," he added. "We'd love that, if somebody found it in their attic or in their grandfather's suitcoat, or something like that. Those are hand tickets, not out of a machine. They really would be collector's items.

"They called them hand tickets—they sold them out of racks, but they used to call them hand tickets," he said. "That was before we had machine tickets. I think the first machine tickets were sold in 1946, or in that era right

Last call for 3-year-olds to run here

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — An Act or an actor are expected in the winner's circle today at Hollywood Park after the $240,250 Hollywood Derby.

The final California showing of 3-year-olds prior to the Kentucky Derby and the other two jewels in the Triple Crown goes at 1⅛ miles with An Act the favorite after his victory in the Santa Anita Derby.

But Telly's Pop, co-owned by Telly Savalas, who is Kojak in the television series, aims for revenge and a trip to Louisville.

With 11 sophomores entered, An Act was listed as the early 2-1 favorite with Telly's Pop not far behind at 5-2. Third choice is Crystal Water, the San Felipe Handicap winner at Santa Anita who did not contest the derby there. He is pegged at 4-1.

Telly's Pop swept the major 2-year-old races in Calfiornia last year and then won the California Derby at Golden Gate Fields. But he ran out of the money when boxed early at Santa Anita when An Act beat Double Discount by a neck.

In post position order, the field for the Hollywood race lists June's Blazer, Classy Surgeon, Telly's Pop, Crystal Water, Dr. Krohn, Life's Hope, Double Discount, Gaelic Christian, MacKenzie Bridge, Samburu and An Act.

Each must carry 122 pounds.

Laffit Pincay rides An Act again with Francisco Mena aboard Telly's Pop. Bill Shoemaker, who was shut out of a mount in the Santa Anita Derby, will ride Crystal Water.

Shoemaker, who has won more races and more $100,000 races than any thoroughbred rider in history, had been assigned to June's Blazer at Santa Anita after Donald Pierce was suspended. But Pierce went to court and won a ruling which gave him back his mount and Shoemaker missed out.

Telly's Pop, purchased for $6,000 by movie producer Howard W. Koch who sold a half interest to Savalas, would go to Kentucky with a creditable showing at Hollywood. But he struggled in just fifth at Santa Anita, a performance that dimmed his chances of traveling east.

An Act was a $100,000 purchase by a syndicate and the son of Pretense has four victories in five outings and $140,050 in winnings.

So he's the aristrocrat going against the rags-to-riches Telly's Pop who has won six of nine outings.

At Hollywood Telly's Pop not only be opposed by An Act and his own stablemate Double Discount who whipped him at Santa Anita, but also by the undefeated Caelic Christian and the late charging June's Blazer with Pierce again the rider.

If all 11 start, the race will have a gross purse of $240,250 with the winner to receive $152,750. Second place is worth $40,000 with $25,000 to third, $15,000 to fourth and $7,500 to fifth.

Rogers' pact for 5 years formally ok'd

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State University's trustees formally approved contracts today for new head football Coach Darryl Rogers and basketball Coach Jud Heathcote.

The trustees unanimously approved a $34,500 a year, five-year contract for Rogers, formerly of San Jose State University, and contracts for four new assistants he hired in the past two days—less than two weeks before spring football training is to start.

The action nearly completes a massive reshuffling of Michigan State's football program, which has been the target of charges of improprieties and recruiting violations over the past year.

The coaches will be working with a program placed on three-years probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Rogers replaced Denny Stolz, who was pressured to resign after allegations that he knew of a slush fund at the school, and Heathcote took over for Gus Ganakas.

Michigan State never has officially explained Ganakas' firing, but he was known to have had sporadic discipline problems.

The board also approved unanimously a $25,000 a year, four-year contract for Heathcote and a one-year contract for assistant coach Vernon Payne. Payne was retained by Heathcote, who fired a second assistant coach, Richard Versace.

That coaching vacancy, as well as an offensive line coach spot, remain to be filled, said new athletic director Joseph Kearney, who attended today's board meeting. The football spot probably will be filled within the next two weeks, he said.

The four new assistant football coaches were awarded eight-month contracts at salaries ranging from $20,000 to $28,500.

"It's evident for the past number of years we have been underpaying our assistants," said board chairman Blanche Martin. Assistant football coaches fired by Rogers were making between $18,000 and $19,000 a year.

Kearney said salaries for the coaches Rogers retained—offensive end coach Dan Underwood and defensive backfield coach Sherman Lewis—would be increased as well.

New assistant football coaches whose salaries were approved today include Robert J. Padilla, at $28,500 the highest paid assistant; offensive coordinator Marvin P. Braden; linebacker coach James Leon Burtnett, and wide receiver coach Ray Green.

The board did not need to apppove the firings of assistant football coaches Charles Butler, Bill Davis or Ron Chismar, since they will continue to be paid under one-year contracts the board appproved two months ago.

Owners irked at Kuhn

NEW YORK (AP) — American League owners voted unanimously Friday to defy baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and proceed with their planned expansion to Toronto for 1977.

Lee MacPhail, preisdent of the AL, announced the action less than two hours after Kuhn's office said the commissioner had given the National League two weeks to proceed with its proposed expansion to Toronto and Washington.

The commissioner's action, in effect, blocked the AL's plans for Toronto but the AL simply did not accept it.

"The American League vigorously disputes the authority of the commissioner to attempt to retroactively interfere with its expansion to Toronto," MacPhail said. "The American League, in compliance with all baseball rules, officially expanded to Toronto on March 26 and now has legal and moral responsibilities to Toronto.

"Although the American League does not recognize any obligation on its part or on the part of professional baseball to either place a franchise or play games in Washington, in an effort to cooperate, the American league has offered to play a significant number of regular season games there in 1977. This offer has apparently been turned down and is now withdrawn."

The Washington Post reported that the AL had offered a plan for playing 26 games in Washington, 13 by the nearby Baltimore Orioles and one each by the other clubs if the AL got Toronto.

The Orioles, who had at one time offered to play a package of games in the nation's capital, were reportedly hesitant about the latest plan and the commissioner apparently considered the package insufficient.

"Toronto is a permanent member of the American League and I have been directed by a unanimous vote of our League to proceed with our program to place a team and play an American League schedule of games in Toronto in 1977," MacPhail's statement concluded.

Kuhn's action came in a statement teletyped to all 24 major league clubs.

"I have based this decision on baseball's long-standing promise that Washington would be given consideration in the event of expansion," the commissioner's statement said.

"I am following this course because of the inability of the American League, since my April 1 decision, to provide a suitable solution for Washington."

Meanwhile, Lee MacPhail, president of the American League, huddled with league officials, formulating a reply to Kuhn's statement.

The American League, which requires three-quarters approval in franchise matters, formally awarded Toronto a franchise on March 20, voting 11-1 for the 1977 expansion. The National League, which needs unanimous approval for expansion, was blocked by negative votes by Cincinnati and Philadelphia.

A few days later, the AL reached agreement for a $7 million Toronto franchise with a group headed by the Labatt's Brewery. Meanwhile, NL owners remained stalled at the 10-2 vote.

It was at that point that NL President Chub Feeney asked the commissioner to intervene.

On April 1, Kuhn ruled that the AL could go to Toronto but tied the important proviso of satisfying Washington to any such expansion. He also gave MacPhail and the AL owners seven days to come up with a solution. That deadline was extended twice and earlier this week, the commissioner huddled with the American League Planning Committee in Chicago.

Again, no solution was reached in the dilemma and Friday's action followed.

Although the NL constitution requires unanimous approval of any expansion, Feeney requested that the Commissioner, under his power to do anything that is in the best interests of baseball, consider the NL plan.

It was learned that the commissioner's message to the 24 clubs referred to the 10-2 NL vote. He suggested that it was adequate to approve such expansion and that any provisions requiring a greater vote would be deemed not in the best interest of baseball.

There are several factors still clouding the Toronto situation. Buyers in that city have indicated a preference for the American League in view of the AL's quick approval of an expansion team there. Also, the NL has talked about a $10 million price for any new teams - $3 million more than the AL price set for Toronto.

And, perhaps most importantly, the NL still must present a workable plan for Toronto and Washington within the next two weeks.

"I will not speculate on the prospects of the National League successfully putting together its Washington-Toronto plan," Kuhn said. "We will just have to wait and see what develops during these two weeks."

A's to open minus Reggie

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland A's will play their home opener without slugger Reggie Jackson, owner Charlie Finley or the team astrologer around to help them.

Or, especially in the case of Jackson, to hurt them.

Jackson is now property of the Baltimore Orioles, who will send 23-game winner Jim Palmer against ex-Oriole pitcher Mike Torrez in today's opener at the Oakland Coliseum. But the right fielder remains home in Arizona, holding out for a better contract offer.

"I wish Reggie well, but there never was a .253 hitter who was a superstar," Finley said from the hospital bed in Chicago where he's undergoing treatment for a pinched sciatic nerve. The A's owner is in traction and will remain hospitalized up to 10 more days.

Jackson batted .253 last season when he tied for the American League home run title with 36. Two weeks ago, in one of baseball's biggest trades in recent years, Finley sent Jackson and Ken Holtzman to the Orioles for first baseman-outfielder Don Baylor and pitchers Torrez and Paul Mitchell.

"Reggie is definitely not going to play in Oakland this weekend," Jackson's business partner, Gary Walker, said Thursday, calling negotiations with the Orioles "completely stalemated."

Holtzman will pitch against the A's Vida Blue in Sunday's game. The two-game series is expected to draw about 50,000 fans, but if Jackson were playing there probably would be bigger turnouts.

Palmer said earlier this week that he has "lost some respect" for Jackson, who reportedly turned down a $510,000 three-year offer from Finley and a $1 million, five-year offer from Baltimore.

"The fact that Reggie is not here has hurt the attitude of the club and it has hurt our performance," Palmer added after the team lost three straight games.

"Do you wonder why I traded him?" Finley said, noting Palmer's remarks.

The A's also have a three-game losing streak but Finley says, "We'll win our division. There's no doubt about that."

He's not even calling on Laurie Brady, the astrologer from Chicago, for help immediately. He signed her as official A's astrologist this week and said, "the players all will have appointments with her when the team comes to Chicago."

Getting back to Jackson's situation, Finley said, "A lot of players are going to be surprised next year when they become free agents. They'll find out they're not worth as much as they think."

He also noted football's Joe Kapp case, in which the former quarterback sought $12 million in court and got nothing.

"Kapp played hog and wound up eating corncobs. Some other athletes will, too," the A's owner concluded.

Blair ready to take over Buffs

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Pledging to begin recruiting his style of players, Bill Blair of Virginia Military Institute prepared today to take over the head basketball coaching job at the University of Colorado.

Blair, who has been mentor at the Virginia school for four years, was hired Thursday to replace Sox Walseth. Walseth was fired five weeks ago after leading Colorado basketball teams for 20 years.

"I'm going to recruit players that are quick and exciting to watch," Blair said. "I'm looking for young players who think they have an opportunity to eventually play professional basketball."

Under National Collegiate Athletic Association rules, basketball prospects cannot be signed before Wednesday. Blair said he would concentrate recruiting efforts in Colorado, which he said "produced some of the finest high school talent in the nation this year."

Blair inherits a team which posted a 7-19 record last year under Walseth. His Keydets posted a 22-10 record during the 1975-76 season in their first winning season since 1941.

VMI upset Tennessee and DePaul in the NCAA tournament before losing in the Eastern Regional final to Rutgers.

Blair said leaving VMI was "difficult because of the tremendous situation here."

"Being a graduate of VMI and having such fine players and people to work with, that made it difficult, too. But when you've got to go, you've got to go."

Blair said the situation at Colorado offers "a great number of plusses."

"I liked what I saw when I was out there. It is awfully interesting. The area looks like an untapped giant to me for basketball," he said.

Ali appearance never comes off

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "I feel like I had a balloon and then had the air let out of it," said Jim Howell who arranged an undercard for a Muhammad Ali exhibtion which never came off.

But while Howell's feelings involved disappointment, the sinking sentiments experienced by ticket agency owner Ira "Ike" Sollers were more painful.

"You learn by your mistakes, but you could say I was pretty stupid," acknowledged Sollers, who lost $1,950 in rent on a Friday night Muhammad Ali appearance that didn't happen.

"You can chalk it up to experience," Sollers was able to add. "In this business, you take a lot of gambles. This was one of them."

Police said a promoter identifying himself as Robert D. Blakes arrived in the city last weekend and immediately set about lining up three Ali exhibition matches.

In the process, police said, the man was able to convince the Missouri Office of Athletics ot his legitimacy and, for a while, even intrigued Ali's Chicago attorney Charles Lomax.

The promotion, however, bogged down Wednesday when the heavyweight champion's advisors professed ignorance of the promotion and word rapidly leaked out.

By Thursday, the sale of tickets for the card was barely off the ground and the promoter was arrested for nonpayment of a hotel bill in excess of $300.

Police said the promoter, when arrested, was in possession of a Michigan driver's license, a car bearing Indiana plates, a card showing a Memphis residence and 45 cents.

But a check of his identity through a computer system, Police Maj. Charles Wren said Friday, revealed his true name to be John O. Lamar, 46, of Oxford, Miss.

Indy entry list at 57

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The official entry list for the May 30 Indianapolis 500-mile race grew to 57 Friday, including 1975 winner Bobby Unser, with more expected.

The deadline for entries was midnight Thursday, but those postmarked before that were accepted. Tony Hulman, president of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, said the final count will be at least 65.

Besides Unser, drivers assigned to cars entered the last day were Rick Muther and Mel Kenyon.

Muther, veteran of three Indy races, qualified last May at 181.726 miles an hour but was bumped from the 33-car starting lineup by the last qualifier on the final day of time trials.

Unser, a two-time Indy winner, has led at some stage of the last five races and could become the first driver ever to lead six straight.

Other cars entered Thursday included a second McLaren, with no driver named, three by owner-driver Jim Hurtubise and one by Dick Simon, who earlier was named to drive for Rolla Vollstedt.

Rutherford, of Fort Worth, Tex., is seeking his 13th Indianapolis start. He won the race in 1974 and finished second behind Bobby Unser last year. He also was runnerup to A.J. Foyt last year

The McLaren team had hoped to use the new Cosworth engine in this year's race, but both entries from team manager Teddy Mayer specified four-cylinder turbocharged Drake-Offenhauser power plants.

Hurtubise, of Indianapolis, has driven in 10 Indy races but did not qualify the past two years. His entry forms did not list chassis-engine specifications.

Simon, of Sandy, Utah, entered his own 1973 Eagle with a turbocharged V-8 Foyt engine. He said earlier this week he would use his own car only if he fails to qualify for Vollstedt.

Simon's teammate is Janet Guthrie, the first woman ever named to drive a car at Indianapolis. Miss Guthrie, who has 13 years of sports car racing experience, was granted a conditional U.S. Auto Club competition license on Tuesday and will attempt to qualify for the April 25 Trenton 200.

Indianapolis Motor Speedway officials expected another 10 entries here, including cars for Al and Bobby Unser, Lloyd Ruby, Gary Bettenhausen, Tom Sneva, Sammy Sessions, Tom Bigelow, Steve Krisiloff and George Snider.

Practice at the Speedway will begin May 8, with official time trials on Saturday and Sunday, May 15-16 and May 22-23.

Suns, Sonics play rough

SEATTLE (AP) — By the time the Seattle SuperSonics get to Phoenix, will they still be angry?

"Are there bears in the forest?" asked Sonics' star Fred Brown.

The Sonics go to the Phoenix Suns' home court Sunday for the third game of their best-of-seven National Basketball Association Western Conference semifinals. The teams are tied up after the Suns socked the Sonics 116-111 Thursday night.

The Sonics were trying for their 18th straight win at home. Socked may be the only word to describe what happened during the game's last 2 minutes and 50 seconds.

Tommy Burleson, Seattle's towering center, was punched in the face for the second time. Fred Brown was ejected for complaining too colorfully to officials about alleged fouls.

The Sonics lost a six-point lead. They left the court angry.

Brown, who weaved through Phoenix flak to set a club playoff record by scoring 45 points, was furious at what he felt was a series of fouls which went uncalled.

"I was hit three times coming up the court that last time," Brown said. "And I got a knee in the thigh on that last shot I took.

"...After a whole night of that I was frustrated. I was tired of people telling me they were sorry.

"I get thrown out for saying something, but two guys punch Tommy Burleson and neither of them get thrown out."

Sonics' Coach Bill Russell said he didn't realize Brown was going to complain bitterly to the officials: "If I had I would have called time out."

Russell said he thought the Sonics actually lost the game in the second quarter, when they fell behind by eight points.

Brown was a big scorer in Tuesday's Sonics's win. Phoenix Coach John MacLeod had said the Suns planned to try to neutralize Brown.

After Thursday's win he said only, "Fred Brown is one heck of a fine basketball player.

Safari Rally hit by floods

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — East African cars held a commanding lead late Friday after flash floods and mechanical faults threw 13 of the world's top drivers out of the 24th annual Safari Rally.

Shekhar Mehta and Joginder Singh, both from Kenya and both former rally winners, battled for the lead as 25 cars returned to Nairobi to complete the first 1,250-mile leg. The three-leg, five-day event ends Monday.

Thirty-nine starters were eliminated overnight, nearly all by two flash floods that covered the route with up to 10 feet of water near Kitui, a rural farming center. Rain elsewhere forced changes in the route between Mombasa on the Indian Ocean and Nairobi.

Wet conditions were predicted for the second leg starting at dawn Saturday, which will take competitors along twisting, high-altitude trails around the 17,000-foot Mt. Kenya.

Mud traditionally favors local drivers in the Safari, generally considered the sport's toughest rally over some of the world's worst roads. Foreign professionals often take an early lead but they have won only twice.

European aces forced out Friday included Swede Bjorn Waldegaard in a Lancia Stratos, Finns Timo Makinen and Hannu Mikkola, both in Peugeot 504s, Finn Rauno Aaltonen in an Opel Kadett GTE and Jacky Prive of France in a Renault R17.

Nine foreign drivers remained in the event.

Most of the 39 eliminated were barred for being late at time control stations after they failed to get past the floods. Rally officials said the first leg took an unusually heavy toll but the dropout rate was not unprecedented.

Man building his Shangri-La

PROSPECT HILL, N.C. (AP) — For the past eight years, Henry Warren, 82, has been busy building his own ShangriLa.

Actually, it is a miniature village he has built of rocks in his back yard. He calls it Shangri-La, N.C.

The village has a hotel, store, bank, theater, water tower, mill, dog house, cow shed, fire station, jail houses and a motel among other buildings.

Kissinger wanted to quit after Viet— but then Watergate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger intended to resign his national security adviser's post after the Vietnam peace accords were signed in January 1973 but changed his mind when the Watergate scandal began to unravel, the State Department says.

Department spokesman John Trattner said that Kissinger was so close to resigning that, in anticipation of his expected departure from Wasington, he shipped personal papers from the White House to the Pocantico Hills, N.Y., estate of his longtime friend, Nelson A. Rockefeller, then governor of New York.

Trattner's statement was prompted by reports that Kissinger had secretly sent official documents to the Rockefeller estate for safe-keeping in violation of federal law.

In their new book, "The Final Days," Washington Post reporters Carl Bernstein and Bob Woodward said Kissinger transferred official documents to the Rockefeller home for fear they might be stolen by Nixon advisors H.R. Haldeman and John Ehrlichman.

Trattner said the papers Kissinger sent to Pocantico Hills were personal, and not official, in nature.

Although Trattner did not say so explicitly, Kissinger's decision to remain at his government post apparently resulted from the disclosure in March 1973 of the letter sent by Watergate conspirator James McCord to U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica.

The McCord letter, one of the first major breaks in the Watergate scandal, suggested that the Nixon administration was attempting to cover up the true dimensions of the affair.

There was no official explanation as to why the Watergate disclosures forced Kissinger to change his mind.

But one U.S. official said Kissinger may have believed that his resignation at that time would have left the impression that he himself was involved in Watergate.

Alternatively, the official said, Kissinger perhaps concluded that his resignation would have tempted foreign adversaries to test U.S. resolve, mindful of the Nixon administration's preoccupation with its domestic political problems.

"The secretary had always thought that he would probably resign after the Vietnam war was over," Trattner said. "He had decided to leave as soon as U.S. troops had left Vietnam and peace looked well on the way to being established. However, as Watergate developed he decided he could not leave."

Later in 1973, Nixon named Kissinger secretary of state and for a 26-month period Kissinger simultaneously held that post along with his White House national security adviser role.

When President Ford relieved him of his national security post in November 1975, Kissinger reportedly was weighing resignation again, but Ford is said to have persuaded him to stay on.

Unwed pariplegic mother wins right to keep her baby

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Celestine Tate, an unwed quadriplegic who uses her tongue and teeth to diaper, dress and feed her 5-month-old daughter, won court permission Tuesday to keep the child.

Common Pleas Court Judge Edward B. Rosenberg ruled that the 20-year-old mother had neither neglected nor deprived her daughter, Niya, and that the baby should remain in her care.

"I'm very happy," Miss Tate told a reporter after the decision. "I'm going to work out a beautiful life for me and the baby."

The judge also granted a petition from Miss Tate's maternal great grandparents, with whom she lives, that they be named joint and supplementary custodians of the youngster.

Miss Tate was born with deformed arms and legs, the result of a disease called arthrogryposis multiplex congenitalness. This condition prevents her from using her arms and legs, and she has spent most of her life lying flat on her abdomen.

She can neither crawl nor walk, and must be carried on a litter or in someone's arms.

The case originally came before the city's family court on a complaint by the welfare department that the infant was deprived and that Miss Tate was physically incapable of caring for the child.

This complaint was withdrawn a month ago, but the case remained before the court on the custody petition of the great grandparents.

During the closed hearing, Miss Tate demonstrated her ability to change Niya's diaper with her tongue and teeth.

Miss Tate has declined to comment on the child's father.

DICK TURNER

Carnival cartoon bows out

Carnival, the cartoon panel which has appeared in the Progress Bulletin comic section for years, will come to an end today with the semi-retirement of its creator Dick Turner. However, Turner will continue the Sunday Carnival.

Daily Carnival will be replaced on the comic page by the new two-column panel, Mr. Flugg, beginning Monday.

Turner's daily Carnival first appeared in August, 1945, two weeks before V-J Day. Since then more than 10,000 panels and Sunday pages (which featured Mr. Merriweather until last year) have appeared — to the delight of funny page readers of as many as 450 daily newspapers.

Turner plans to continue living at his Vero Beach, Fla., home in the winters and at Lake Tippeacanoe in northern Indiana in the summers.

Classic

The Mississippi governor's mansion at Jackson is a classic example of ante-bellum architecture. It was completed in 1839. It was spared when Union forces, under Gen. Sherman, burned most of Jackson during the Civil War.

Almanac

By The Associated Press

Today is Saturday, April 17, the 108th day of 1976. There are 258 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1521, the Diet at Worms, Germany, excommunicated Martin Luther from the Roman Catholic Church after the former monk refused to admit charges of heresy.

On this date—

In 1790, Benjamin Franklin died in Philadelphia at the age of 84.

In 1861, Virginia seceded from the Union.

In 1941, in World War II, Yugoslavia surrendered to Germany, but partisan forces continued to wage guerrilla warfare.

In 1943, U.S. bombers hit Palermo, Sicily.

In 1945, the United States announced that Japan had lost more than 200 planes in a single day of suicide attacks in the Battle of Okinawa.

In 1970, the U.S. Apollo 13 space capsule and its three astronauts made a safe on-target landing in the Pacific after a moon mission aborted because of mechanical difficulties.

Ten years ago: The U.S. Air Force attacked two missile sites within 20 miles of Hanoi, in the closest raids to the North Vietnamese capital up to that time.

Five years ago: Egypt, Syria and Libya signed an agreement to confederate but gave no indication of sovereignty that might be given up.

One year ago: Communists took over control of Phnom Penh as the Cambodian War drew to an end.

Today's birthdays: Writer Thornton Wilder is 79. Newscaster Harry Reasoner is 53.

Thought for today: Mankind must put an end to war or war will put an end to mankind — President John Kennedy, 1917-1963.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, Martha Washington arrived in New York City from Cambridge, Mass., to join General George Washington as he prepared for an expected British attack on the city.

Thieves prefer sweets, coffee

PRAGUE (AP) — Sweets and high quality coffee are the most frequent target of shoplifters in Bratislava supermarkets, a local paper reports.

Alcohol, which holds third place, represents about one third of all the thefts.

Shoplifting is not due to poverty, the daily said. Among recent culprits were an engineer, a philharmonic musician, and a lawyer.

Bilingual session scheduled

Wanting to know how the public feels about bilingual-bicultural education, Richard Benitez, director of that program for the Pomona Unified School District, is planning a meeting open to everyone next Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in the Education Center.

Information will be presented and suggestions and opinion will be received concerning the type of program to be directed in selected target schools in 1976-77.

Data gathered will be used in coordination with state, federal and district thinking and findings in preparing the 1976-77 curriculum.

Microwave cook class

Two free cooking classes will be offered by the Upland Recreation Department and Chaffey College at the Magnolia Community Center, Upland.

Microwave cooking will be taught in an eight-week course starting Monday at 7 p.m.

Historical menus and recipes of early American history will be featured in an eight-week course starting April 22 at 9 a.m.

Both courses will be instructed by Karen Downing, home economist.

Additional information regarding either class may be obtained by calling the recreation department at 985-0994.

Libya refuses asylum to trio

BENGHAZI, Libya (AP) — The Libyan government has refused asylum to the three Filipino Moslems who surrendered Wednesday in Benghazi after the longest aerial hijacking in history.

The Arab Revolutionary News Agency said the three young gunmen were under interrogation but gave no indication what President Moammar Khadafy's government might do with them.

Parents to mull ways to save Claremont Collegiate

A parents group will meet Tuesday in Claremont to launch a campaign to save the campus of Claremont Collegiate School.

The board of trustees for the private school, located at 3105 N. Padua Ave., told parents last week that the 10-acre campus might have to be sold because of fiscal problems.

Board Chairman George Piness told the parents that with only 35 students enrolled the tuition was not enough to meet expenses, although the school would finish out the year.

"At our present level of enrollment, tuition covers less than one-half of our 10-month budget," said Piness.

He estimated that operational costs are about $100,000 per year, much of which is maintenance costs for the campus itself.

If the campus were sold, the school would continue at some other location in Claremont.

"But an overwhelming number of parents don't want that to happen."

Piness said that if the parents group can generate enough interest to raise enrollment to 60 students for next year the school could continue at the present location, where it has been since 1954.

Some of the ideas being suggested to increase enrollment include a return to limited boarding of students — the school ran a boarding facility until 1973 — and offering tutorial classes for public school students in the area.

Piness said a decision will have to be made soon to plan for next year's operation.

He said that interviews for prospective students will proceed in the same manner as previous years.

Tuition at the school is $1,650 to $1,830 per year.

Piness said that in the past five years almost 100 per cent of the school's graduates have gone on to college.

KENNETH RICHTER

Austria film at Forum

A film by Kenneth Richter which won the Gold Medal for Service to Austrian Tourism will be shown Monday at 7:45 p.m. in the Pomona Education Center auditorium before the Forum audience.

It is entitled "To Austria With Love." Dr. Robert Marschik, the Austrian consul general, awarded Richter the citation and medal at a Town Hall showing of the film in New York City, N.Y.

Richter describes the film as a tribute to Austria, "a land where ladies' hands are still kissed, gentlemen are called Herr Doktor and life without good music and the civilized graces is unthinkable."

Those who are not Forum members may obtain tickets at the box office. The Forum is sponsored by the Pomona Adult School.

D.B. scout an Eagle

Steven V. Johnson, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Johnson of Diamond Bar, is an Eagle Scout.

He attained that rank during recent Court of Honor ceremonies at the Valley Community Drive-In Church in San Dimas.

Johnson, a ninth grader at Ganesha High School in Pomona, began as a Cub Scout. He earned the Webelo Arrow of Light, and as a Boy Scout served as patrol leader, den chief, assistant patrol leader and senior patrol leader. He earned a junior leader training award at Buckskin Conference, and served on the Buckskin staff. He will return for a staff assignment this summer.

For his Eagle project, Johnson collected, typed and printed a patrol leaders cookbook.

He received an American Legion Award as a student at Lorbeer Junior High School in Diamond Bar, and earned an Award of Merit at the Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona for his silk screen print.

He holds the National Scholastic Gold Key Art Award.

Hearing society elects president

Mrs. Mary L. Brewer of Pomona has been elected president of the Pomona Valley Hearing Society.

Because of a hearing loss, Mrs. Brewer enrolled in the lipreading class sponsored by the society in 1939. She has continued her activity with the organization since, assisting those with the same affliction.

Serving with Mrs. Brewer as the organization plans its 50th anniversary on May 8 will be Dr. Vernard Eller, first vice president; Edna Staudenmayer, secretary; and Dorothy Stevens, treasurer.

Directors are Barbara L. Jones, Richard D. Base, Penny Hederman, Helen Ivins, Dr. D. Welty Lefever, Evelyn Miller, Betty Rexrode and Dr. Roy C. Weinstein.

Advisory board members are Clarence Brewer, Robert Casazza, Elfreda Christensen, Don V. Kral, Dr. Michael C. Pollack, Sara Thomson and Wallace Unruh.

The society was instrumental in getting the special education program for hearing handicapped students in the Pomona City Schools in 1951.

It started as a social organization for hearing impaired people but developed into a full time agency offering professional services. Presently the society provides school hearing testing, industrial testing and instruction in lipreading.

Taft on links

William Howard Taft was the first president to play golf and was considered a good player. In August, 1909, the first year of his presidency, a man bet $1,000 that Taft could not play the difficult Myopia Golf Course in Boston within the required 100 strokes. Taft turned in his clubs at 98.

Volunteer involvement

POMONA MEALS ON WHEELS is seeking a driver for the second and fourth Mondays of the month. The organization also needs two drivers, a food deliverer and a packer for the first, third and fifth Tuesdays of the month.

The organization which provides meals for shut-ins also needs a man capable of transporting the bulk food containers from the Pomona Valley Community Hospital to the First Presbyterian Church on the second and fourth Thursdays.

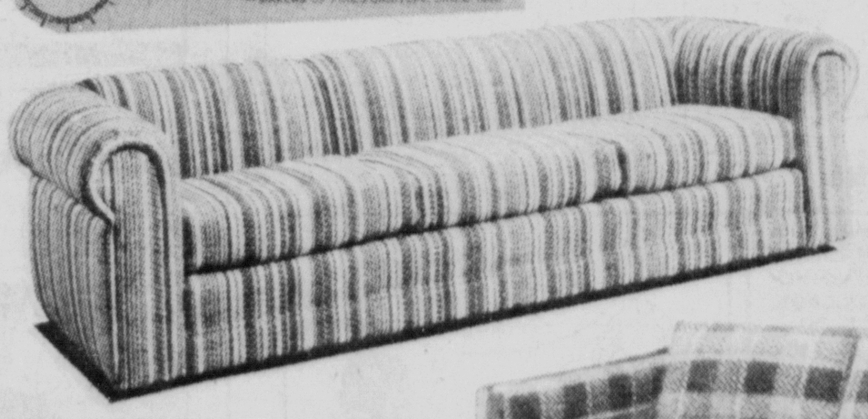

Meals on Wheels provides hot noonday meals to homes of shut-ins on Mondays through Fridays. The food is prepared at the hospital and packaged into individual servings at the church before being delivered in hot and cold food containers.

Persons interested in volunteering are asked to call 623-0010 for additional information.

APRIL IS NATIONAL VOLUNTEER Month. The event is being saluted by the Upland Recreation Department's Volunteer Service Section. In the one year it has been organized, the volunteer service group provided 4,200 hours of service to 312 persons. Volunteers assist both agencies and individuals. Persons interested in helping in various projects are asked to call Harry Sipple at the recreation department, 985-0994.

Starfish are star-shaped animals that live on the bottom of the sea in bays and shallow water.

Under each of the starfish's arms are rows of tubelike feet that end in little suction disks. The starfish uses its tube feet to creep over the ocean floor in search of food.

Many starfish feed on shellfish, especially oysters and clams.

A starfish eats in a peculiar way. The starfish can push its stomach out through its mouth, which is located on the underside of its body.

When it feeds on an oyster, the starfish attaches its suction feet to the oyster's shell and pulls the two halves apart with its powerful arms.

As soon as it has pulled open the oyster's shell, the starfish opens its mouth and pushes its baglike stomach inside the shell.

The stomach covers the oyster's soft body and slowly digests it.

Once its meal is finished, the starfish pulls back its stomach, leaving only an empty oyster shell behind.

A pocket radio, camera, World Almanac globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

WELCOME BACK — Rafael Igoa, vice president of Philippine Airlines, gets a hug Friday from his daughter, Mrs. Bettina McCall, left, after his return home in Manila. Research project geared to aid student drinkers

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — Researchers at the University of Massachusetts have begun a three-year project to find ways to keep student drinkers from becoming alcoholics.

The target of the $300,000 federally financed campaign is not the relatively few students who already are alcoholics but the majority who health authorities label "moderate" drinkers. According to surveys, most UMass students are consuming anywhere from three to 14 drinks a week.

Dr. David Kraft, a psychiatrist directing the project, emphasized that the program aims for wide impact.

"We don't use the word 'alcoholic' much because people react by saying 'That's someone else. That's not me.' Our thinking is that a problem exists when someone has only one or two drinks, but still becomes disruptive or wraps his car into a telephone pole," he said.

Kraft, 33, said he and his staff avoid laying down dos and don'ts for students, but instead try to have them arrive at their own conclusions.

"We're not laying an abstinence trip on these kids. They won't buy that. They've tried the stuff, and they know they like it," he said. "What we're trying to do is have people examine their own drinking behavior and decide how it's affecting themselves and people around them, and whether that behavior is acceptable."

To do this, Kraft and his assistants are training a group of students as "peer educators," persons who can organize and lead small discussion groups in the dormitories and other informal settings.

Some of the workshops make use of "trigger films," brief sequences showing persons engaging in drunken behavior, but with no implicit message in the footage. Students themselves decide what the message is.

One such gathering convened recently in a battered basement recreation room of a dormitory. With six students flopped on dusty couches and broken-down chairs, the hour-long session remained low key and noncommital. Unlike an Alcoholics Anonymous meeting, no one had a stirring confession to offer, nor did any sharp debate develop.

Project worker E.T. Mellor, 29, began the session with a description of the project, and a rundown on various counseling services available at UMass.

Mellor and the students agreed that drug use at UMass apparently has tapered off in the last two or three years. Marijuana use remains widespread, they said, but hard drugs, hallucinogens and amphetamines circulate less than they did a few years ago.

Mellor said this change appeared to be partly the result of declining availability but also to increased student caution about taking any mind-altering substance. He said a campus drop-in center which began as a service for persons with drug problems is now attracting all sorts of students, only 30 per cent of whom have a drug-related problem.

When the discussion turned specifically to alcohol, students were reticent in talking about their own drinking habits, but acknowledged that they knew other students who they thought had alcohol problems.

Mellor suggested a variety of strategies for relating to such persons. It was important, he said, not to shun student drinkers. For example, if a person tended to withdraw into his dorm room and drink heavily by himself, his neighbors should try to find out what's bothering the student without lecturing or ridiculing him.

Besides talking about ways of changing individual behavior, the group also discussed how campus-wide patterns could be modified.

Some of the students said they noticed a growing interest in having soft drinks available at dormitory parties. One girl said two recent picnics sponsored by her dorm had been totally free of alcohol and people enjoyed the change of pace.

But the consensus was that alcohol still dominates the campus social life, and that for most students, getting drunk is the highlight of the weekend.

Kraft and his colleagues are keeping close tabs on how their efforts are affecting the pro-alcohol norm. They take opinion samples, check on drunk-driving arrests, monitor infirmary admissions, watch beverage sales in the campus pubs and analyze feedbacks from the discussion groups. And from time to time observers spot check various areas of the campus for random drunken behavior.

As results start emerging, U-Mass will try to pass on its most effective techniques to other universities by holding a conference on alcoholic abuse prevention. Kraft said many schools have programs for treating student alcoholics, but only recently have some recognized the need for preventive efforts as well.

Scandal cuts Japanese deep

TOKYO (AP) — The Lockheed payoffs scandal has reached so deep into Japanese life that the suspected sins of a firm involved in Lockheed sales here are being visited on the employes' children.

In one nasty new schoolyard game called "Testimony," children of Marubeni Corp. executives are forced to repeat, "I have no memory of it," just as their fathers did at parliamentary hearings.

In the classroom, teachers describe Marubeni executives as "bad people," and when their children burst into tears and the mothers protest, the teachers insist "the truth is the truth."

In Japan, company ties can be as strong as family ties, and a man often introduces himself by his company's name.

For the 30,000 dependents of Marubeni's 8,500 employes, even those not linked to the Lockheed affair, there has been heckling, snubs by neighborhood clubs and annoying late night phone calls.

"Every day I report to work under strict security checks and carry out my job with waves of demonstrators heckling us outside our office," said a trade specialist who has been with Marubeni for 10 years.

"Our union asks us to donate blood to the Red Cross, another effort to recover the good name of Marubeni." So far the public relations campaign has been a flop.

"At least once a day, demonstrators march to our head office, often mob our reception hall and even have hurled peanuts all around a couple of times," said the trade specialist, who refused to be identified.

"In such cases, our public address system advises that there is confusion and we should not go out."

Peanuts have become synonymous with the Lockheed scandal in Japan because several former Marubeni executives acknowledged signing receipts for Lockheed "peanuts," believed to represent bribes destined for high officials.

More than $12 million in payoffs is alleged to have been involved in attempts by Lockheed to get favorable aircraft sales contracts in Japan. Marubeni officials have denied any wrongdoing.

New look for German wives

BONN, West Germany (AP) — The West German parliament today passed a law that grants women equal rights in marriage and allows uncontested divorces after a one-year separation.

The opposition-controlled Bundesrat, the upper house of parliament which at first rejected the bill, approved an amended version which the lower house had passed overwhelmingly on Thursday. Most of the reforms take effect next year.

Besides granting women equal rights in marriage, the new law allows newlyweds the option of adopting the bride's last name, guarantees that divorced couples share pensions equally and eliminates blame from divorce proceedings.

RESOLUTION NO. 2-76

INTENTION TO SELL CERTAIN REAL PROPERTY LOCATED AT 905 HARVARD AVENUE, CITY OF CLAREMONT, COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA

WHEREAS, the real property hereinafter described and located at 905 Harvard Avenue, City of Claremont, County of Los Angeles, California is not needed as a school site or part of a school site, therefore be it

RESOLVED, that the Board of Education of the Claremont Unified School District, in pursuance to the provisions of Sections 16051-16065 inclusive of the Education Code, does hereby declare its intention to sell at public offering the following described real property:

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, that it is the intention of this Board to sell the said property in accordance with the provisions of the Education Code of the State of California, and upon the following terms:

1. The minimum bid acceptable is $25,000.
2. Acceptance and award shall be on the basis of the highest amount paid to the district exclusive of interest paid if terms are requested by the bidder. This amount shall be determined by deducting commission, if any, from the gross bid. The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.
3. Bids shall be made on a form prescribed by the District available at the Education Center, Claremont Unified School District, 2080 North Mountain Avenue, Claremont, California 91711.
4. A broker's commission may be paid in an amount not to exceed 6% of the highest acceptable bid, and as outlined in Sections 16057, 16061 and 16062 of the Education Code.
5. If a broker's commission is involved in the sale, the District shall be liable to pay the commission only after the close of escrow.
6. Before accepting any written proposal the President of the Board shall call for oral bids in accordance with Section 16061 of the Education Code.
7. Each bidder smitting a written or oral bid shall supply with his bid a certified or cashier's check in the amount of $2,500. The checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned, but the check of the successful bidder shall be retained until escrow instructions are executed by the Claremont Unified School District and the successful bidder. The check shall then be deposited into escrow as part of the purchase price of the property along with an additional check to bring the total down payment to 10% of the successful bid. In the event the successful bidder refuses or fails to enter into an escrow, the bid deposit shall be retained by the Claremont Unified School District.
8. The Board shall have the right, within five (5) days of execution of an "Agreement to Buy and Sell", to demand of Buyer evidence of financial responsibility which evidence shall be delivered to the Board within five (5) days of demand. If Buyer should fail to deliver satisfactory evidence of responsibility or (if the Board shall determine upon such evidence and any other information within fourteen (14) days of delivery that Buyer is not responsible, the Board shall have the right, in its discretion, to reject the bid and cancel the Agreement to Buy and Sell and will return the bid security.
9. In the event that a bid is rejected pursuant to paragraph 8 hereof or the Agreement to Buy and Sell is cancelled, the Board may, in its discretion, offer the property to other qualified bidders in the order of their bids and may enter into an Agreement to Buy and Sell with a bidder willing to do so, at a price not lower than his bid price.
10. The sale shall be consummated by the signing, at the time the Board of Education accepts the bid, of an "Agreement to Buy and Sell", by the Claremont Unified School District, as "Seller", and by the bidder who submits the highest acceptable bid, as "Buyer", which form of agreement is on file in the district administration office.
11. A preliminary Title Report will be available for inspection of interested parties prior to the date for the opening of bids in the Education Center, Claremont Unified School District, 2080 North Mountain Avenue, Claremont, California 91711.
12. The Agreement to Buy and Sell shall contain the following terms and conditions. The Buyer may add other terms and conditions or may substitute other terms and conditions as may be mutually agreeable provided that the Board shall determine that the Agreement to Buy and Sell is not rendered less favorable to the District thereby.

I ESCROW

(a) Within twenty (20) days after execution of the Agreement to Buy and Sell an escrow shall be opened at a mutually acceptable bonded escrow company.
(b) Within five (5) days of opening of escrow, the Seller shall deposit Buyer's bid security.
(c) The term of the escrow shall be sixty (60) days. If at the end of such period Buyer requests Seller for an extension, Seller may, if satisfied that Buyer has proceeded in good faith and that an extension would probably enable the escrow to close, grant an extension or extensions totaling not more than sixty (60) days.
(d) Buyer shall pay for recording of the Deed and one-half of the escrow fee. Seller shall pay for one-half of the escrow fee and for all of the Policy of Title insurance and for Revenue Stamps.
(e) Upon failure of the escrow to close, as specified in (c) above, the Seller may cancel the Agreement to Buy and Sell.
(f) In the event of Buyer's failure to comply with these conditions, Seller shall be entitled to rescind the Agreement to Buy and Sell and the deposit less all costs of escrow and advertising incurred by the Seller shall be returned to the Buyer.

II TERMS

Should the acceptable bid provide for an installment purchase the following shall constitute the terms and conditions:

(a) The down payment shall be the bid deposit of $2,500 plus an additional amount to bring the total deposited to 10% of the successful bid.
(b) Buyer shall deliver to Seller through escrow its negotiable instrument consisting of a Note and Deed of Trust for the remaining principal balance.
(c) The balance of the purchase price shall be paid within three (3) years from the date of the close of escrow as follows:
(1) Buyer shall make at least three (3) equal annual payments on the principal plus accrued interest on the unpaid balance of the purchase price. The first payment shall be made on the first anniversary of the close of escrow. Interest shall accrue on the unpaid balance of the purchase price at the rate of 8% per annum commencing with the close of escrow.
(2) Buyer shall have the right to prepay any amount without penalty. Any payment shall be credited first to payment of accrued interest.
(d) Buyer shall agree to and indemnify and hold harmless the district, its officers, agents and employees from every claim or demand made and every liability loss, damage or expense of any nature whatsoever which may be incurred by reason of liability for damages for (1) death or bodily injuries to persons, (2) injury to or loss or theft of property, (3) design defects, or (4) any other loss, damage or expense sustained by the Buyer or any other person upon the property or in connection with remodeling or improvements to the property.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a special public meeting of the Board of Education of the Claremont Unified School District be held at its usual place of meeting in the Board Room of the Education Center at 2080 North Mountain Avenue Claremont, California on May 3, 1976 at 6:30 P.M., at which time and place sealed bids will be opened and considered together with oral bids in accordance with California Education Code Sections 16060-16065, inclusive.

Something uniquely American... Story on page 4

Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona

Once, 80 years or more ago, Pomona's Central Business District was a thriving market place — the most important mercantile center in the Valley. And if you want to know why, it was all because the automobile hadn't yet arrived to displace horses. Which is why the early 1890s might well be described as the Golden Era in Downtown Pomona's business history.

There was a firm of Sears & Foss, blacksmiths and wagon makers, right on the corner at Second and Garey. Horse shoeing was their specialty.

At First and Ellen, the J.W. Vaughn Livery and Feed Stables were doing a thriving business. There Pomonans could hire "first class single or double turnouts with or without drivers."

And of course Phil Stein, one of Pomona's more famous early day civic boosters, was selling carriages, wagons and carts by the trainload. Also, just in case you needed one, he was ready to supply you with a steel windmill.

Even as late as 1904 the horse was still playing an important part in Downtown Pomona's business activities — though sometimes much to the consternation of Second Street shoppers. Witness this story which appeared in the Aug. 17, 1904, issue of The Pomona Daily Review.

"Yesterday afternoon Beal's city hack and a dray wagon got tangled up at the First National Bank corner. The hack was upset and it took half a dozen men to right and mix-up."

So, in the light of history, it would appear that the much discussed salvation of today's Downtown Business District might well be achieved by a return to the good old horse and buggy days. Also, it would probably be extremely helpful if we could have another People's Store like we did in 1892, where one could buy "Men's White Shirts with linen bosom and cuffs for only 50 cents each."

Postage stamp buckle

A Bicentennial Postage Stamp Buckle featuring a reproduction of Scott No. 1348 — the 6¢ Bennington Flag in the Historic Flag Series of 1968, is being offered by The Lyon's Den. The 3-inch x 2-inch buckle is made of Satin Pewter Antique and is suitable for belts up to 1¾" wide. The Postage Stamp Buckle is priced at $5 postpaid and may be ordered directly from The Lyon's Den, R.R. 4, Box 238, Pleasant Valley, N. Y. 12569. The buckle may also be ordered complete with a 1¾-inch wide, oil tanned harness leather belt with loop and snaps at $9 postpaid.

U.N. Conference on Trade and Development

On April 23, the United Nations Postal Administration will issue a set of three values to commemorate the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development. The stamps will be printed in denominations of 13¢, 31¢ and F.s.1.10 (43¢ U.S. equivalent). The design shows cargo being hoisted from a shipment and a world globe superimposed on a graph indicating a climb in trade. Instructions for the purchase of mint stamps and first day covers of all denominations may be obtained from the United Nations Postal Administration, P. O. Box 5900, New York, N. Y. 10017.

Partnership

The lichen is not an individual plant but a partnership between alga anda fungus. The alga needs moisture and salts in solution and obtains these from the fungus. The alga manufactures organic food and supplies this to the fungus.

Shelby Lyman on chess

Karpov: a super champion?

World Titleholder Anatoly Karpov's latest triumph, a ten-win and five-draw first place in the 15-round international tournament at Skepje, Yugoslavia has excited much comment. Has a super champion come on the scene?

Karpov's record since succeeding Fischer argues strongly for the Soviet player's exceptional superiority. Many former scoffers have been convinced.

Adamant Fischer fans are now wondering aloud for the first time whether their reluctant hero could handle the physically slight, 120 pound Karpov who is an implacable tiger at the chessboard.

A Beautiful Finale

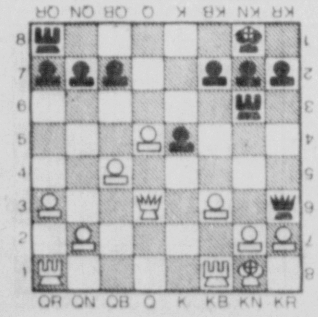

It is a great pleasure sometimes to turn back the pages of chess history and stop a moment before one of its great treasures.

An example is the following game between the two giants, Alexander Alekhine and Emanuel Lasker, each a world champion in his time. Play is terminated in the diagrammed position when Alekhine plays 26.QxNP! For capture of the queen would lead to 27. R-Rch, N-R3; and 28. RxN mate.

In the words of Max Euwe, a champion himself: "Curious is Alekhine's knack of developing a seemingly harmless attack within a few moves, into a hurricane which smashes down all resistance."

Moves 18-26 merit this description and deserve study.

QUESTION: I am trying to learn the names of the companies which made glass marked Pres-Cut, Near-Cut, Ni-Cut and Nu-Art. These terms are very confusing to us as we are beginning collectors. Mrs. G.G.F.

ANSWER: The trademark "Pres-Cut" was adopted before 1894 by the McKee Glass Company of Pittsburgh, when the factory began producing pressed glassware simulating cut-glass patterns. About 1904, their trademark appears on such wares as "American Pres-Cut Glass" all within a circle — and in 1908, the factory adopted yet another trademark, "Rock-Crystal," for their imitation cut glass.

The trademarks "Nu-Cut and Nu-Art" were used by the Imperial Glass Company of Bellaire, Ohio, organized in 1901. And glass marked "Near-Cut" was made by the Cambridge Glass Company of Cambridge, Ohio, during the '20s.

QUESTION: I would like to know the value of a 10-inch plate in the "Blue Willow" pattern marked "Semi-Vitreous" (picture of a large buffalo) with the words BUFFALO POTTERY, 1909." I have always liked the plate since I read a story about this particular ware when I was very young. Is the plate worth anything at all? J.W.

ANSWER: If perfect, about $20.

Entertainment that's uniquely American

Somewhere between vaudeville and ballet, between the Olympics and Broadway musical comedy, the ice skating show is a uniquely American contribution to the world of entertainment.

Ice Capades, Ice Follies, Holiday on Ice — the flashing blades, leggy chorines, hilarious comics and lavish scenery and costuming make ice shows a star-spangled, musical hit throughout the nation. As many as 10 million people will see ice shows in the United States and Canada this year — more than attend pro basketball, hockey or football games.

The current Southern California exponent of this curiously American phenomenon is the East Company of the Ice Capades with a cast of 100 performers, winding up a 10-month, 25-city cross-country tour with a three-week engagement at the Los Angeles Sports Arena, starting Wednesday. The show is entitled "Just for You" and is directed by Robert Turk.

Six ice troupes crisscross America throughout the year — three Ice Capades, two Holidays on Ice, and the Ice Follies. (The Follies and Holidays are run by Ice Follies.) The present Ice Capades company began its tour in Atlantic City, N.J. last July.

The roots of the modern ice show probably lie in the amateur carnivals and gymkhanas of small towns of the north and of Canada in the latter part of the 19th century. Skate shows really took off with the advent of artificial ice — the New York Hippodrome had an ice show in 1915.

It took the incomparable Sonja Henie, however — 10 times world champion, three-time Olympic gold medal winner — to mix the magical blend of athletics and show business that is today's ice show. Her Hollywood Ice Revue was her showcase; her films outdrew all stars except Clark Gable and Shirley Temple; her salary was more than half again that of the president of General Motors. By the end of World War II, there was hardly a hotel in the nation that didn't have its own ice show.

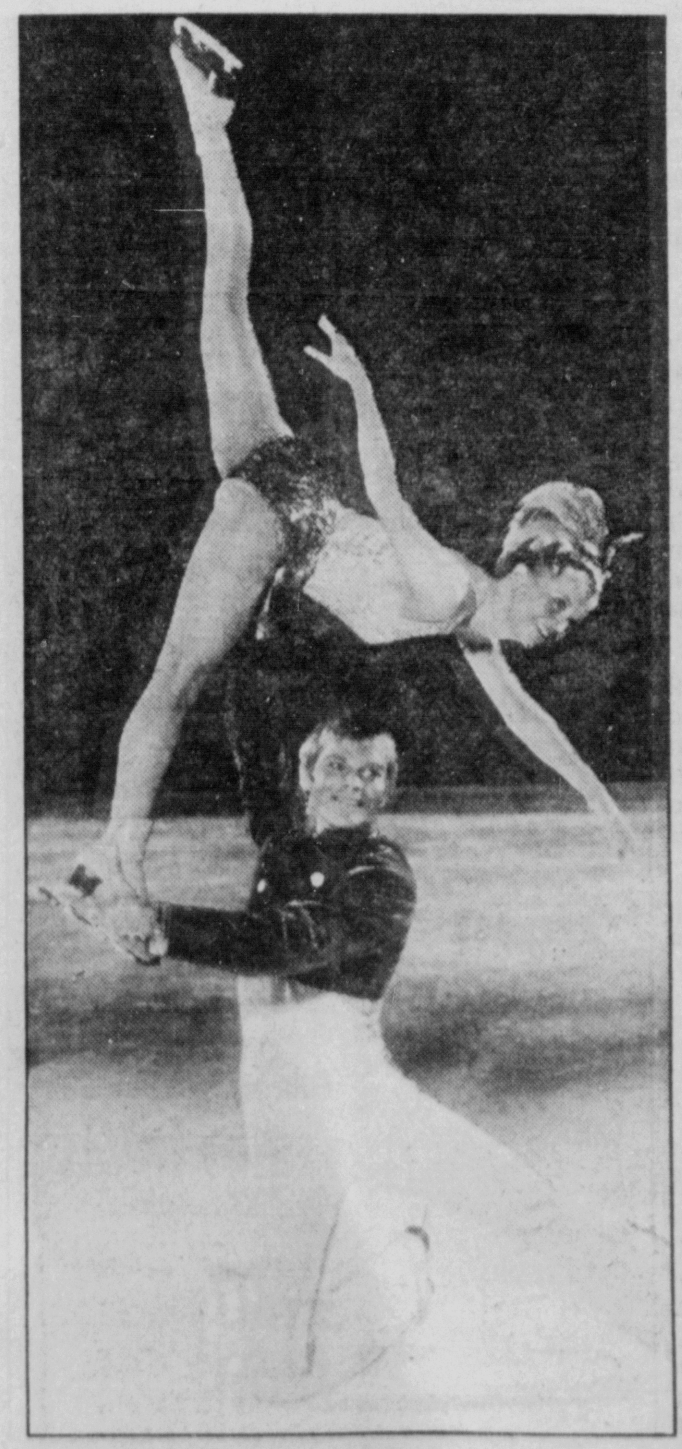

In 1936 Roy and Eddie Shipstad and Oscar Johnson took their hotel ice show on the road as Ice Follies, and a new era of entertainment was born. (The first performance, in Tulsa, Okla., drew 14 viewers.) Four years later John Harris, owner of the Pittsburgh pro hockey team, gathered some backers and launched the Ice Capades.

Today it costs $1 million to mount a new ice show — and each must play three years to recoup the investment. The companies spend as much as $500,000 on costumes — 250 wigs, sequined gowns, yards of ruffled pink satin, mirror-trimmed opera capes, feathered top hat. The tons of costumes, scenery and equipment of Ice Capades are packed into 15 truck-trailers which travel by rail to the next city. (The company even has its own sophisticated ice-making apparatus and can lay down a rink in 14 hours, including a layer of spray painting to give a soft effect.)

Because of the popularity of ice shows, ice dancing was introduced as an Olympic event this year, but athletes as a class tend to look down on the ice revue. Ballet aficionados do not take it seriously; theater people regard it as a gimmicky carnival; musicians see it as a circus, rather than a Broadway show.

However, the much-maligned cultural oddity grosses more than $40 million a year — and the owners laugh all the way to the bank.

Story by Joseph H. Firman
PB staff writer

Peter Gordon and Barbara Wilson star in "You and Me" in the Ice Capades.

Dainty Dawn Seesler lends a continental touch to the ice production, "Just for You."

Lavishly costumed dancers perform in "The Story of Tsing-Tsu."

Ice Capades skater Sharon Smith watches as costume designer Faye Buckley models a hat for her.

ON THE COVER

Yogi Bear and his friends from Hanna-Barbera land will greet visitors to the 36th annual Ice Capades opening Wednesday at the Los Angeles Sports Arena. The three-week engagement concludes a 10-month, 25-city tour that entertained hundreds of thousands of fans with comedy, music, colorful costumes and spectacular skating routines.

Mary Ellen's has no contracts and offers a four-month program. Women attend on an unlimited basis, going to the salon as frequently as they wish.

The salon offers spot reducing, figure conditioning, individual programming, nutritional guidance and complete supervision. The fast results are attributed to the one-to-one instruction by professional instructors.

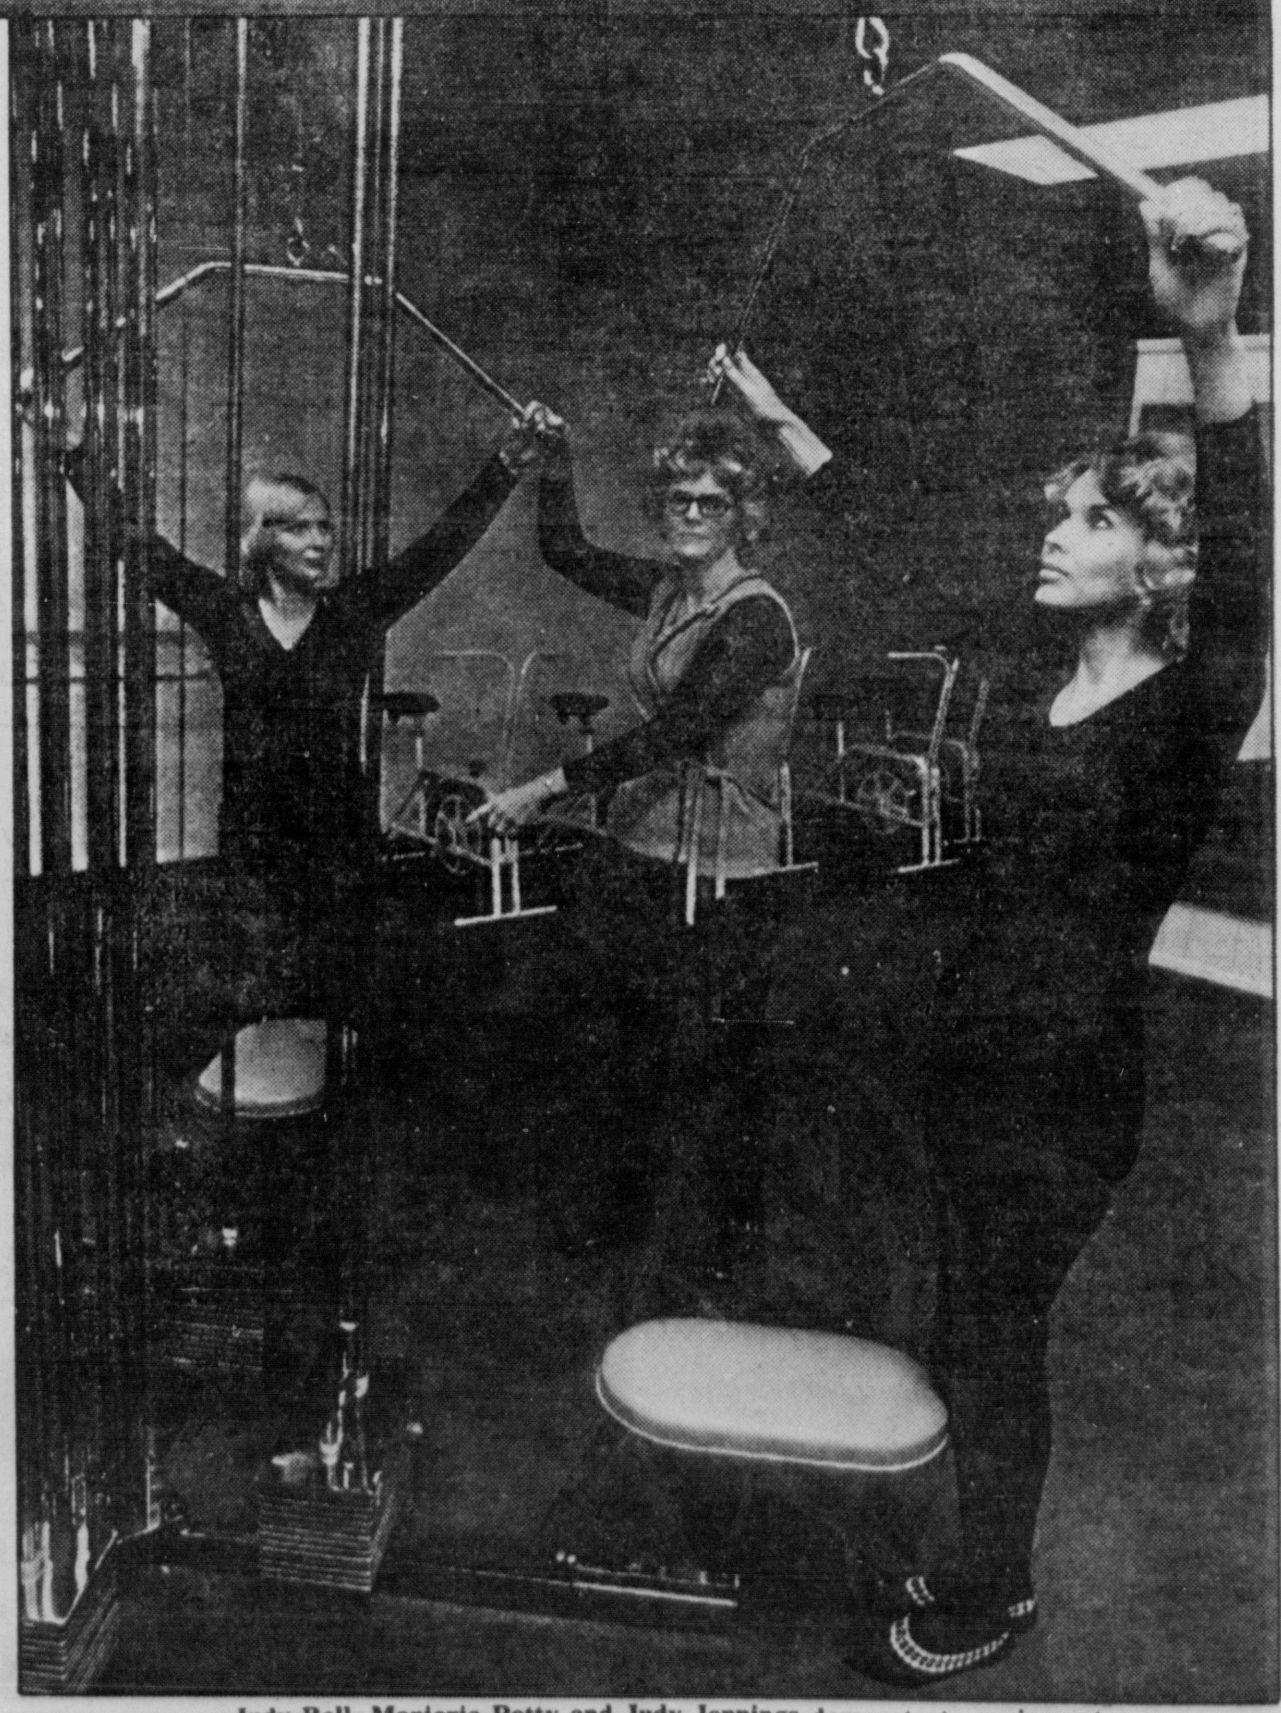

"There are no two bodies exactly alike, and there are no two programs alike at Mary Ellen's," the manager said.

Four different figure contouring programs are offered to women for reducing, building up, maternity and slenderizing. Along with exercising, the salons offer a course in the psychology of dieting which is taught at the weekly meeting. The meeting includes guest speakers and demonstrations by local personalities on food preparation, grooming and personality development.

Mary Ellen's Figure Salon of Montclair is managed by Linda Green and has moved to 4029 W. Holt Blvd. across from the Standard Brands Paint Store at the corner of Holt and Mills avenues.

The Montclair salon offers babysitting with supervision from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday to encourage its clientele to use the facilities more often.

Mary Ellen's figure salons are open six days a week. Hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays. Trained personnel are on duty at all times.

Judy Bell, Marjorie Petty and Judy Jennings demonstrate equipment.

Budd backlot baby

By Bick Kleiner

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Budd Schulberg, who grew up in Hollywood when his father ran Paramount, thinks he knows what's behind the current fascination for books about the old days in this town.

"Most Americans," he says, "grew up with the movies. That was an integral part of their childhood. The movies then were a major force in our lives, as TV is to the younger people of today."

Schulberg, long one of Hollywood's top writers, is now grinding out a book about his Hollywood boyhood, and the stars and writers he knew when he was young.

"I used to play on the Paramount back lot," he says. "The stars were all nice to me — after all, I was the boss' son. Cary Grant gave me my first dog.

"But I always wanted to be a writer, so the attentions of the studio writing corps meant more to me. They'd read and criticize my early attempts at plays and short stores."

You can sample his writing now. He's written a delightful book, "Swan Watch," about the two swans — Loh and Grin — who share the Schulberg's Long Island home. Budd's wife, Geraldine Brooks, took the photographs which illustrate the book.

Budd says he and Geraldine are now thinking of going back, getting some good film equipment, and making a TV documentary about their swans.

SHIRLEY VERRETT, star mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, will present a recital at 8:30 p.m. April 28 at the Ambassador Auditorium, Pasadena.
